All Over The World

Dear Folks,

There's a mighty true line in our T.F. song that goes
"Ne'er O ne'er shall we forget, the best school in the land."
We don't, but oh boy could we do with a little more news about the old brain factory! We get some Thorntonians now and then, and they're tops, but we move around so much that we miss coples and don't get the whole story about anything. Please send us news about everything and everybody.

We used to gripe about rules and lessons—and the cafeteria and detention and most everything, but we knew all along we liked the joint and wouldn't have traded places with anybody. It's the same way now. We gripe and crab, but we're where we belong and nothing doing on trading places with anybody till we can come back the "winnah" and watch our kid brothers wollop the socks off Harvey or Hammond High.
Till then Puleez keep the news coming. It's supposed to lift our "morale." Maybe so, anyhow we get a kick out of it.

The old gang.

Dear Reader,

Here is your V-mail edition of the 1944 Chronoscope. We have had so many requests from the fellows in the services for news about "what's cookin'" that we decided to make this year's book a message to them. You'll notice we've grouped our activities a new way. You'll get part of the idea from the pictures on the opposite page.

This book is just as informal as our friendships here at T.F., and we hope you get as much fun out of looking at it as we have out of putting it in and writing.

To all our uniform wearers,

The boys whose pictures appear here are just a few of the hundreds of Fractionalites in service. We hope you won't feel hurt that your picture isn't included 'cause we couldn't use all your pictures even if we had them. These were selected from those received the earliest because they represent all three branches of service; because they represent all three towns; and because (and this is a mighty good reason) they looked as if they'd reduce and engrave well.

We are purposely omitting ratings since they'll probably be higher before you get the book. Yours till we can see you instead of a picture,

The Staff.

"Enclosed Please Find"

Dear fellow students,

Each year the senior class, the journalism department, and the Chronoscope staff in particular is faced with the problem of finding a theme for the yearbook.

This year our theme was handed to us on a silver platter in the form of scores of requests from the fellows who aren't hanging around here anymore, and so we're calling this our V...— Mail Edition, as you've probably discovered if you're not blind.

Our big trouble was to get enough material to make a book of any sort, but we finally made it by using glass plate instead of film wherever we could and cutting down on engraving by having small pictures in many cases.

Last year we had a very dignified theme. This year our keynote is informality, and we don't want anybody to think that our flippant treatment of most things is meant to detract in any way from the grand job every organization has done in 43-44.

Let's have just one serious thought before we get going on the fun. The number of gold stars on our service flag is growing so fast that we're not even listing the boys who have earned them for fear that by June there will be others, and we wouldn't want any memorial to be incomplete. Let's remember, though, that for the gold star boys, and the blue star boys too, school days are over and let's try to appreciate our good fortune in being here—and in having a Chronoscope to record our happy hours.

Dear Evelyn:

We've had some swell times in second period library. Remember the last day we were in there & Miss Spelling nearly had us in hysterics? Well, anyway, after having lots of laughs with you, I know you'll always have, a laugh and a smile for everyone.

Township High School

Calumet City, Illinois

Dear Doc,
In response to that most unreasonable of all requests—that I write what I'm doing in this man's army—all I can say is, "Here goes!"

Well, to begin with, I went through Fort Custer as my reception center. Nothing much happened there except that we scrubbed floors, and scrubbed floors, and scrubbed floors—say this is getting monotonous. Someone once told me that if I stayed around long enough and scrubbed floors I'd become a barrack leader. I did. As soon as that happened the Army thought better of the idea, and I was "Bingoed" out of Fort Custer to take my basic training up at Camp Norrie. During the basic I did what everyone else did—I dug foxholes, hiked, went out on night problems, bivouaced, qualified with the rifle, Chicago typewriter (Tommy gun to you), and the pistol, guarded prisoners, walked sentry post, had K.P. and worked at Provost Sergeant.

Digging foxholes is no fun, but man alive, when you have classes in digging that are lead by men who came back from foreign service who tell you how important it is to dig while you can, and you find out exactly what a tank can do to the best foxholes, fun or not, those foxholes take on a new meaning, and brother, you dig! Hikes—well, I'd just as soon not talk about them, how about you? Night problems are quite unlike any I'd ever had before and were a concoction made on the following recipe: Combine three hours of lying in swamp grass at the edge of a river with two hours of trying to stand concealed in pine trees (a chilling rain dripping down the back of the neck.) Mix in one-half a tick of "shut-eye," a ten mile hike, a friendly "enemy," general confusion as to tactics, and an attempt at deadly silence. Stir up very well with a few top sergeants, then after seven hours or so, call the whole thing off—and what do you have—a night problem.

A few of the things that I won't forget very quickly are:
The time we were eating in a farmer's field and an irate bull took a dislike to the jeep that brought us our food. One thing I'm glad about is that you can't pull the bull over any jeep—they're smart.
The personal bed-tipping invitation of the first sergeant who insisted on his soldiers getting out of their "sacks."
The skunk that kept me company on my night sentry post out at an ammunition dump. (And it wasn't my shadow!)

Dear "Frankie",

The journalism juveniles asked me to ask you to write a letter for us to use as an introduction to the "class" section in the Chronoscope. They want to know what you're doing (if anything) and all about army life and how you like it and so on ad infinitum (indefinitely, to you).

Incidentally, they send their very best wishes and join me in hoping that you keep the army on the jump and very much in the groove with your tooting.

Sincerely,
Alice McKeehan

P.S. Gaaech's said to say "hello" for her

A. V. Lockhart

Here he is—still at the helm—Skipper A. V. Lockhart—with a message for all of us in his letter to Mr. Luce.

Lt. L. W. Luce, Educational Officer
U. S. Naval Training Station
Richmond, Virginia

Dear Larry:

Perhaps a word from your old school will please you. Our enrollment is off about ten percent. Senior girls have the boys outnumbered more than two to one. A lot of seniors are in the armed forces. Patriotism has taken a priority over education.

Many of the hundreds of former students have brought honor to our school and to themselves. The number serving as commissioned and non-commissioned officers is very gratifying. My interest is heightened because my own son, Leonard, is now training with the hope of becoming an army pilot.

Our students really are "backing the attack" on the home front so that you and the rest of the boys can come home crowned with victory. Make it soon, as I want a "spot" of golf with you before I become too old to swing a club.

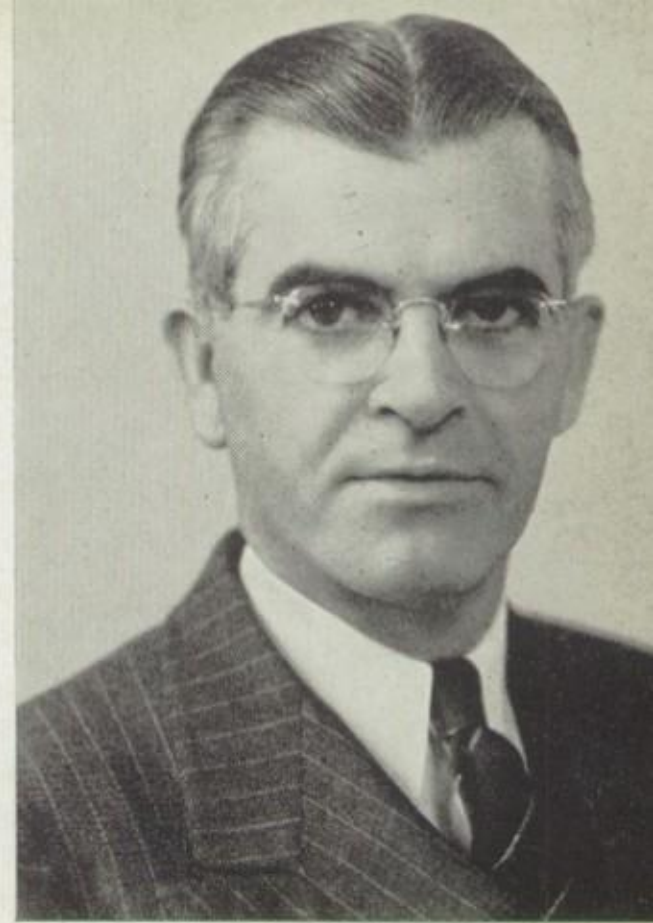

Cordially,
A. V. Lockhart.

And here's the board—still paying the teachers, and making everybody keep within the budget and do right by all the little Johnnies and Marys. It's a pretty good gang. Mr. Joe Pressig (Joe's father) couldn't be at the meeting the night the picture was taken. The others are Mr. Albert Walhgren (Nancy's and Al's father), Mr. Andrew Klein (a T.F.er himself and Mouse's brother), Mr. Edward Kuhlman (Shorty's father), and Mr. Peter Gindl (Peter's father and Walter's uncle.)

At the left is our own Dean Schmidt, and at the right is that champion straightener-outer, Principal "Jim" Leonard. Both have messages for us.

Greetings,

We have always thought that our T.F. athletes and band members looked nicer than any others in their uniforms and that our boys and girls were the friendliest in the region. And now that so many of you are in the service, we feel that you are still the handsomest ones we know. When you come over to T.F. to say hello, we are mighty proud of you.

We're anxiously awaiting the day when you come back to make up our overflow crowds at carnivals and the enthusiastic cheering sections at our games.

Most sincerely,
Anna Schmidt.

To the Class of 1944,

Throughout the course of history there appear epochs in man's progress. It is often difficult to recognize the ending of one stage and the beginning of another, but it appears that we lie at the threshold of a great new epoch.

The members of the Class of 1944, unlike the lost generation of 20 years ago, know that there is a definite place for them in the world's work.

First, there is a war to be won—after the war has been won, a real peace must be achieved. This class must remember that a real peace requires something positive. It requires constant thought and effort, and above all it requires tolerance. No group, race, or nation is safe unless all groups, races, and nations are safe.

James H. Leonard

From our ever cheerful office gals come—

Greeting to YOU in the service, wherever you may be!

While you are away having many new experiences and adventures, things here at T.F. are moving along fairly well on schedule. Yes, there have been changes since you left, but along with the changes each year, many things remain the same—you still need an excuse slip for the day you were "needed at home" (we believed you) and invitations are still issued for that party which is held from 3:40 to 4:30 daily.

Even though our visit with you may be confined to a few minutes, we are always happy when you take time from your precious furlough and stop in to visit your Alma Mater. Stop in to see us the next time you have a leave or furlough, won't you?

BC'n U,
Margaret and Dora

Dear Tony,

You were always such an expert apple polisher that I'm sure you'll like this picture of our teachers. When all's said and done they're a darned good gang to know. You'll note a lot of new faces. That's partly because Coach Young, Mr. Stock, Mr. Kingdon, and Mr. Legg are in the army and Mr. Potts and Mr. Luce are in the Navy. Two of the bunch aren't in the picture. Mr. Fedosky wasn't around when the picture was snapped (but he's with some of the athletic snaps) and Mr. Russell didn't come until the second semester. There's a picture of him alone.

We'll label the gang just in case you could have forgotten.

First Row: Miss McKeehan, Miss Temple, Miss Etter, Miss Jaacks, Mrs. Theodore, Mrs. Zygmunt, Miss K. Brazzil.
Second Row: Mr. Kiester, Miss H. Brazzil, Miss Merkoffer, Miss Schmidt, Miss Ihrig, Miss Moe, Mrs. Canaga, Mrs. Brown, Miss Spelbring.
Third Row: Mr. Smith, Mr. Leonard, Miss Lynch, Miss Shemaitis, Miss Slocum, Miss Kessinger, Miss McBriar, Mr. Christian.
Fourth Row: Mr. Margrave, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Schulke, Mr. Elvin, Mrs. Garrett, Mr. Petree, Mr. Lambka, Mr. Davis.

There they are, and I for one am willing to bet there's not a better faculty to be found. I'll also bet you'll be the only gob in the Navy with that sort of picture for a Pin-Up.

Oodles of good wishes,

Ed.

Senior S

Dear Lug,

Dear Lug,

Here it comes—the senior section! We’ve waited four long years to get our pics on these pages, but crumb, now that the time has come, we wish we were frosh again. Isn’t that dumb? Still, I guess you felt that way last year too.

From the day we entered T.F. our class has been "tops." (Who's braggin'?—Well, why shouldn't I?) The war sort of mixed us up for a while, but in spite of chaotic conditions we're doing all right. What's the use of spouting off about our achievements (individual and collective), as long as you've known us for three years and can tell from our pics and our activities that we're the cat's pajamas.

Our class does have one claim to originality. When we march into the gym to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance," there'll be about one hundred more girls than fellows. The boys are doing their marching all over the world. Just thinking about it makes me feel a little weepy—but, gosh, I'm proud to be their classmate.

Cheerio,

The gal you left behind

P. S. This intelligent looking (?) trio is composed of our dearly beloved class officers. The two Georges, Schneider (treasurer), on the left and President Burkhart on the right, are surrounding the Evelyn half of the Ault twins. Bob McKinnon, our Vice-President, must have gone fishing the day the picture was taken.

Hi, Bud,

That does it! That's all of the senior pics. Don't we look intelligent?—Don't answer that!

Just rate the class of '44 along with Lincoln, Washington, Old Ironsides, and our "Grand Old Flag!"

Why?

They had poems written about them, didn't they? Well, ahem, somebody composed one especially for us! Don't laugh, it's very flattering. (Almost too good to be true!) You needn't get sarcastic either—we didn't bribe him. One of our Juniors jotted it down of his own free will. We-l-l, maybe we did prompt him a little, but that slight tap on the head with Barney's monkey wrench only helped him to remember how kind we are.

Perhaps, "Spin" was thinking of the qualities an ideal senior should possess when he wrote these lines. Or, maybe he's giving us a preview of what he'll be like next year! In any event, he can consider himself thanked roundly by the entire senior class for "dem kind woids."

Well, Bud, it's time for the seventh period bell to ring, guess I'll have to sign off for a while. But before I wish you smooth sailing, here's "Spin's" contribution to the bolstering of Senior ego.

Seniors

Our seniors have dignity, beauty and grandness,
Their manners are noted for their quiet blandness,
Brains, they have many; poise, very much,
Like the great ones they are, their qualities are such
That no man may question their purpose in life,
And they'll strive to achieve through hardship and strife.
So we give silent toast to our seniors so noble,
May their paths be smooth and barren of trouble;
But if trouble's encountered, and you can't think what to do,
Just keep right on trying, we're all rooting for you.

I'll be sending you a letter about the Junior class soon.

Oodles of luck,

"Kelly"

J-J-J-Juniors

Jumping Jehosophat are you going to have fun looking over us Junior Jerks! We are jabbery, jolly, jitterbuggy, jaunty, jesty, jovial and even judicious. We are the journalists; we put over the school jamborees; we hold down jobs; and we never jumble things. Of course, there are other words that begin with "J." You know, the good ones, and the bad ones only the silly Sophs say. There are oodles more "Jays" we could use, but seriously we do have a jim-dandy class and we are proud of the large number we have in every activity from band and orchestra to athletics.

Yumping Yiminy, the Yunion Officers

Sarah Rider, vice-president; "Yim" Swendson, president; Mickey Skiba, secretary, Doris Steinkraus, treasurer.

Naturally, we think it's the Juniors who put the play over, and if it hadn't been for us what would the carnival have been, I ask you? No, I'm not asking, I'm telling you "nutting," just "nutting!" The prom? Better than ever! We're smart too—j'ever check the honor roll?

Quite a lot of fellows will be joining you in the service and won't be seniors till that darned duration business is over, so T.F. will start to miss the members of the class of '45 very soon. How the school is going to run the year after next is a problem. Are we jeering—no, just joshing.

Jim

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Hello There,

We're sending you some snaps of the sophomores. Don't you wish you were back running around with a gang like this? When a junior writes a poem like this about sophomores, they must be O. K.

SOPHOMORES

by

Oscar Spindler

They're not quite "hep" and not quite green,
Some are fat and some are lean
Their manners are crude and their actions are rough,
But they'll pull through, cause they're made of good stuff.
Now some are corny, and some are keen,
Some come to school when their necks aren't clean;
But we aren't worrying, 'cause they're learning fast,
For they're our up and coming Sophomore Class.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Hello Again,

Here are the pictures of our "frosh" and a poem about the kiddies. It looks as if T. F. is going to be in good hands for a few more years anyhow.

FRESHMEN

by
Oscar Spindlar

Our future champs are freshmen,
The ones now small and weak;
Who'll grow to great proportions,
Though their future now looks bleak.
So to our valiant Freshman Class,
We give a varied toast,
Now watch the little sons-o-guns,
Go out and start to boast.

Hi, Gang:

I've been receiving the Thorntonian and enjoy it very much. It's still the same old Thorntonian I knew when I was in school, but has a little more interest now. It seems as though it's been quite a while since I was in T. F. in some ways, but when I read the paper and about kids I knew, it seems like only a month ago. The "Armed Forces" column is very informative and lets me and the rest of the boys know of our respective locations.

Right now I'm sweating out a couple months of Pre-Flight and hope to get done by Christmas. We've been going to school day and night, and it's not like the old high school. What makes it a little more interesting, is the fact that I'm in the same squadron with a fellow from Harvey and another from Blue Island, and also one from Kanakee. We have bets with one another on the games at home, and I hope I clean up on the B. B. season. I also have a buldy who graduated from Bloom. We really have some good sessions on the merits of our old Alma Maters. I ran into Elmer Szczepynski, '40, while I was entering a pressure chamber for a simulated flight of 38,000 feet. It looks good to see one of the old boys deep in the heart of Texas. We both agree Texas is a good place to be from. He is a sergeant now, and we're both having plenty to do, so we can't see much of each other.

Well, keep up the good work and give my regards to our "dear faculty."

Yours truly,
Harold Perkins, '42.

Dear J. Fiers

The faculty and the upperclassmen always miss the folks who have graduated, and there isn't anything we like better than to hear from you. Won't you all write to let us know where and how you are and what you're doing?

Our sports have been going over with a bang this year. Read about them in the next section

Hi Fellow:

Well pal here is what our football team did this year, sorry you didn't get to see the games this year, but I guess you are doing a bigger job in the Navy.

We started the season in good style by defeating Hammond Tech 26-0. The fellows were really on their toes, intercepted two passes and ran them back for touchdowns. Eddie Nondorf went 60 yards to score on one touchdown run. A swell game!

Our second game was with Kankakee, our first league game. It was a tough, fast game with no score until the final quarter when Hasiak blocked a punt. Then Eddie tossed a pass to Pete Pyrzs who went over standing up from the 7yd .line. Final score 6-0.

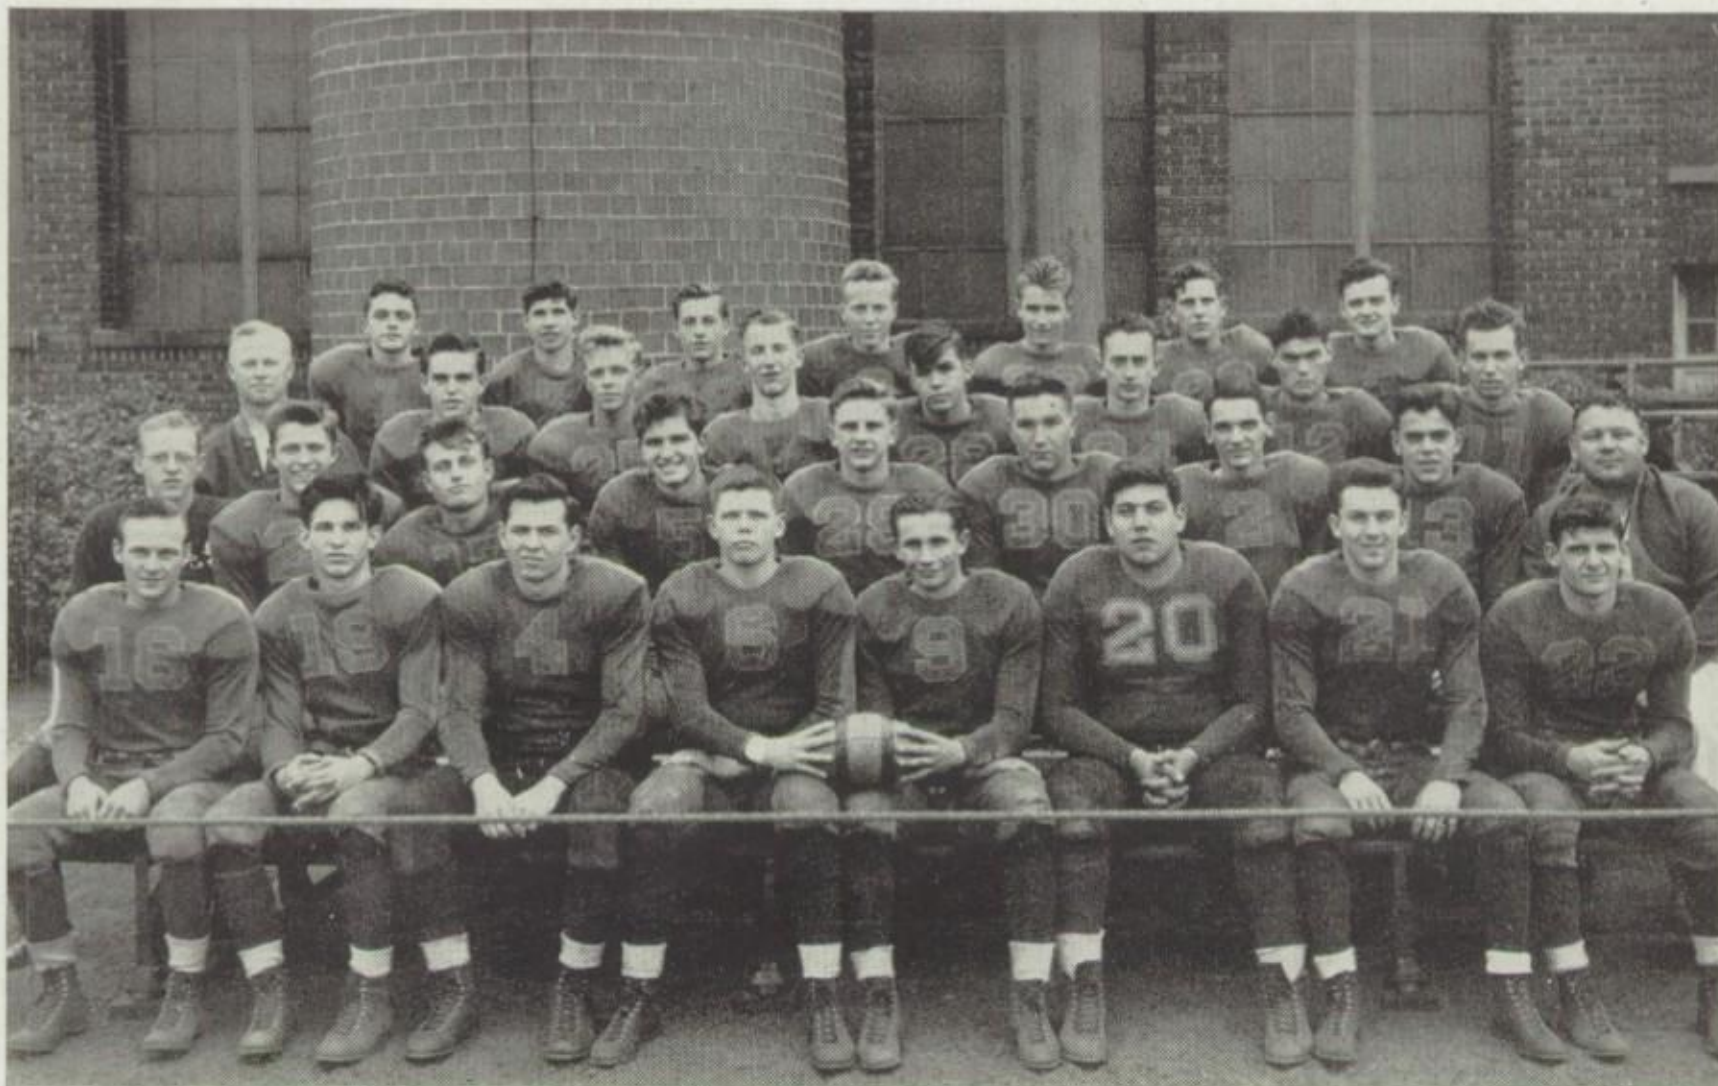

The game with Blue Island was our downfall. We just couldn't get started. Blue Island won for the first time in seventeen years. It was a good game with two good teams.

Because we lost to Blue Island, we were the underdogs in the Harvey game. Harvey had a good, big team, but we were out for revenge because of last year's 19-8 defeat. We scored in the second quarter when Eddie Nondorf tossed a beautiful ball to Bob McKinnon. Mike Nagy went over from the 10 yd. line on the next three plays. Danny Sestak kicked the extra point. After that we held the "Flying Clouds" until the gun went off.

Next we played a fast, determined Bloom team. We played a fine defensive game, but it wasn't quite good enough to stop Bloom's fast backs. They scored twice to beat us 12-0. It wasn't a disgrace to be beaten by Bloom because they have a swell team this year.

Coach Petree booked a game with the Chicago Vocational High School and we played to a scoreless tie the week after the Bloom game. The line did a bang-up job in this game. They allowed Vocational only 56 scrimmage yards. "Buck" Pomilia and "Big John" Heino turned in a whale of a job, but they always did that.

VARSITY

Top Row—left to right: S. Pyrz, W. Padjen, L. Hasiak, Co-capt. D. Sestak, M. Nagy, J. Pomilia, B. McKinnon, Ed Nondorf.
 Row 2—Manager H. Zalewski, W. Kaszak, B. Heimbuck, C. Merlo, T. Pochron, J. Heino, J. Dunn, G. Sarros, Assistant Coach E. Fedosky.
 Row 3—Coach W. Petree, J. Lambert, C. Green, M. Skiba, M. Agosta, R. Jessernig, E. Gleim, T. Dobrowalski.
 Row 4—N. Lynn, R. Fieborowicz, A. Novak, J. Svendsen, R. Leek, H. Winterhoff, J. Lemkher.

Our last league game was with Argo. By defeating them 7-0, we made our league record 3 wins and 2 defeats—a tie for second place. Argo started out like mad when they blocked our first punt and recovered on our 12 yd. line, but the line got down to work and on Argo's first play we smothered their passer and got the ball back. There was no score until the last quarter when Ed Nondorf threw another swell pass to Bob McKinnon. Danny Sestak again kicked the point. This game marked Coach Petree's 100th win. He sure has a swell record for his 17 years at T. F.

The last game of the season was against Catholic Central. It looked as if it were going to be a close game when the half ended with the score 6-6. Then the guys got going and went to town. In the second half we scored 20 points while holding Central scoreless. Final T. F. 26, C. C. 6.

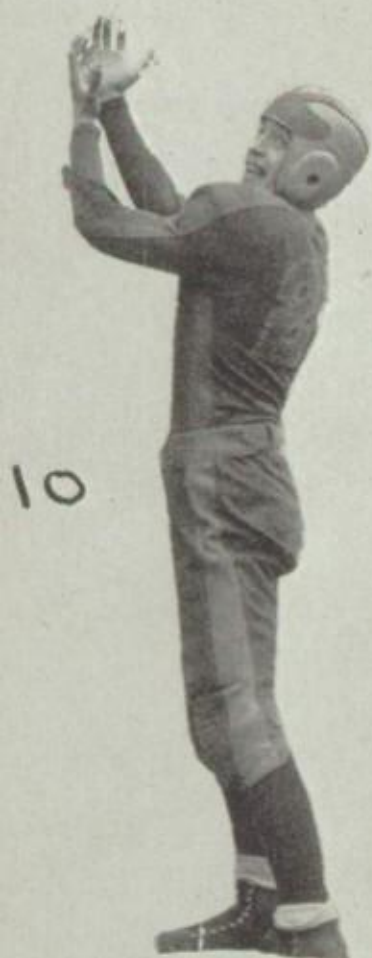

We placed three fellows on all South Suburban. They were Danny Sestak on the first team and Ed Nondorf and Buck Pomilia on the second team. They're swell guys with plenty of football ability, but the rest of the bunch is ok, too. Our record for the season was 5 wins, 2 defeats, and 1 tie.

Hope it isn't long before we all get together cheering again.

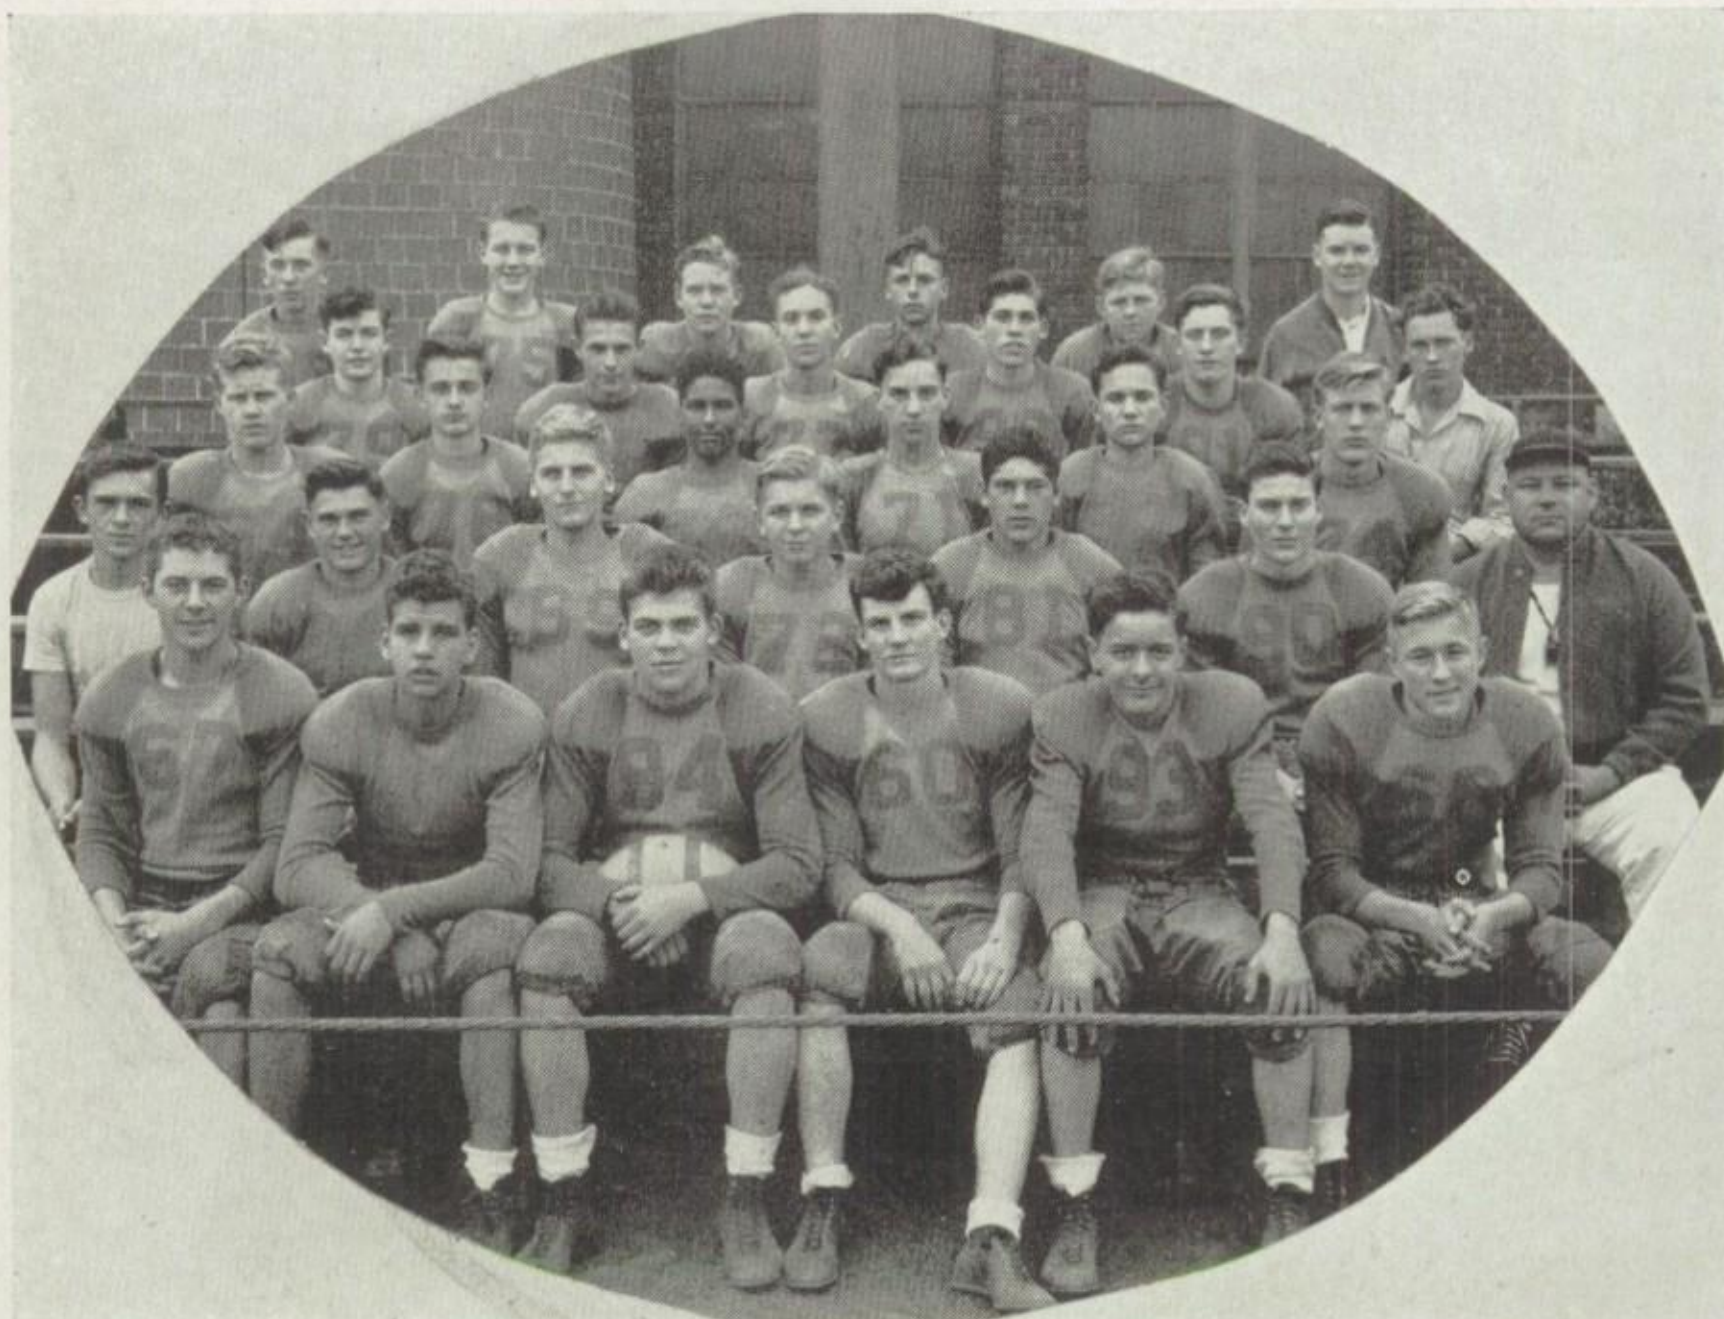

Sincerely,

Bud.

- 1 MIKE NAGY is a senior. He played fullback and was co-captain. Mike never failed to pick up at least a couple of yards.
- 2 GEORGE SARROS is only a sophomore, but he showed his ability as guard many times. He'll be back next year bigger and better.
- 3 JOHN HEINO is a junior tackle from Ironwood, Mich. He's big and tough and did a lot in every game. He'll be back next year if the army doesn't get him.
- 4 WILLIE PADJEN, our senior center, is a swell player with plenty of ability. He played his heart out in every game and played for keeps all the time.
- 5 TOM POCHRON, a junior and a left halfback is always dependable. He did a whale of a job in the Harvey game and will be back next year.
- 6 LEN HASIAK, a junior tackle is a big fellow with a lot of football in his blood. He'll be a big help next year.
- 7 JOE "BUCK" POMILIA is a junior guard. He's big and tough. He made the all South Suburban second team. He's a fine guard and is next year's co-captain.
- 8 BOB McKINNON is a speedy senior halfback from Thornton of Harvey. His biggest thrill was when he helped beat his old teammates from Harvey.
- 9 MARIO AGOSTA is a good punter. He's a big, fast fullback who still has two years to play. He'll be valuable.
- 10 WALTER KASZAK is another willing sophomore who did a good job as end, and will be back heavier and better next year.
- 11 CARL MERLO, one of the junior halfbacks, is the best blocker on the team. He has lots of ability and always does a dandy job.
- 12 PETE PYRZ is a senior halfback. He is small but fast and was sorely missed when he hurt his ankle.
- 13 ED NONDORF is our quarterback. He's only a junior but he made the all South Suburban second team. He's a peach of a passer and runner and always called the right play.
- 14 DANNY SESTAKAUCAS, a senior, made the all South Suburban first team end. He's a first class kicker and punter. Big, tough, good natured Danny will be hard to replace.
- 15 BOB HEIMBUCK is a tough junior center with plenty of ability and spirit. He is always dependable so he was chosen next year's co-captain.
- 16 ERWIN GLEIM is a small but tough and aggressive end who always filled his position well. He's another senior who will be hard to replace.

FROSH-SOPH TEAM

 Row 2—Manager Vincent Kuzdrowski, Buddy Mills, Wayne Christenson, Eugene Duda, Phil Mangracina, Alvin Woollard, Coach Ed Fedosky.
 Row 5—Ronald Hirtz, Roger Pranski, Bill Molnar, Ed Fedosky, Dan Scharlach, Donald Callahan.

Although the freshman-sophomore team didn't turn in such a good record, they did show a lot of good material. Fellows like Tommy Stokes, Ed Fedosky, Red Underwood, and Orville Dockweiler are sure to make good varsity men next year. The Frosh-Soph team only won 2 and lost 4, but they were in there pitching all the time. Every game was really a battle with fellows like Buddy Mills, Phil Mangiarcina and Bob Moore, who were always doing a whale of a job. Most of these fellows are backs, but in Emmitt Miller and Bob Davis, there is a lot of football ability, and one cannot leave out fullback Ed Breese, who did a swell job. The whole squad will be back next year, bigger and heavier, and with a year of experience under their belts.

Varsity Basketball

Greetings Sailor,

You've been awfully patient about waiting for the low-down on basketball—and here goes:

Although the team didn't come out on top of the league, it is still tops with us in many respects. The fellows had what it takes to make a fine team, and they used their ability, too. Their record against the Hammond teams speaks for itself. The outstanding victory of the season was over George Rogers Clark. The Meteors were the underdogs, but really put on a show and beat Clark whose team was rated as Indiana's second best squad at the time. We also beat Hammond High which won the sectional championship.

Here's the team that won the Hammond "City Championship."

L to R First Row—Miniuk, Telechon, Zelewski, Caruso, Coach Kiester, Rogers, Sestakauckas.

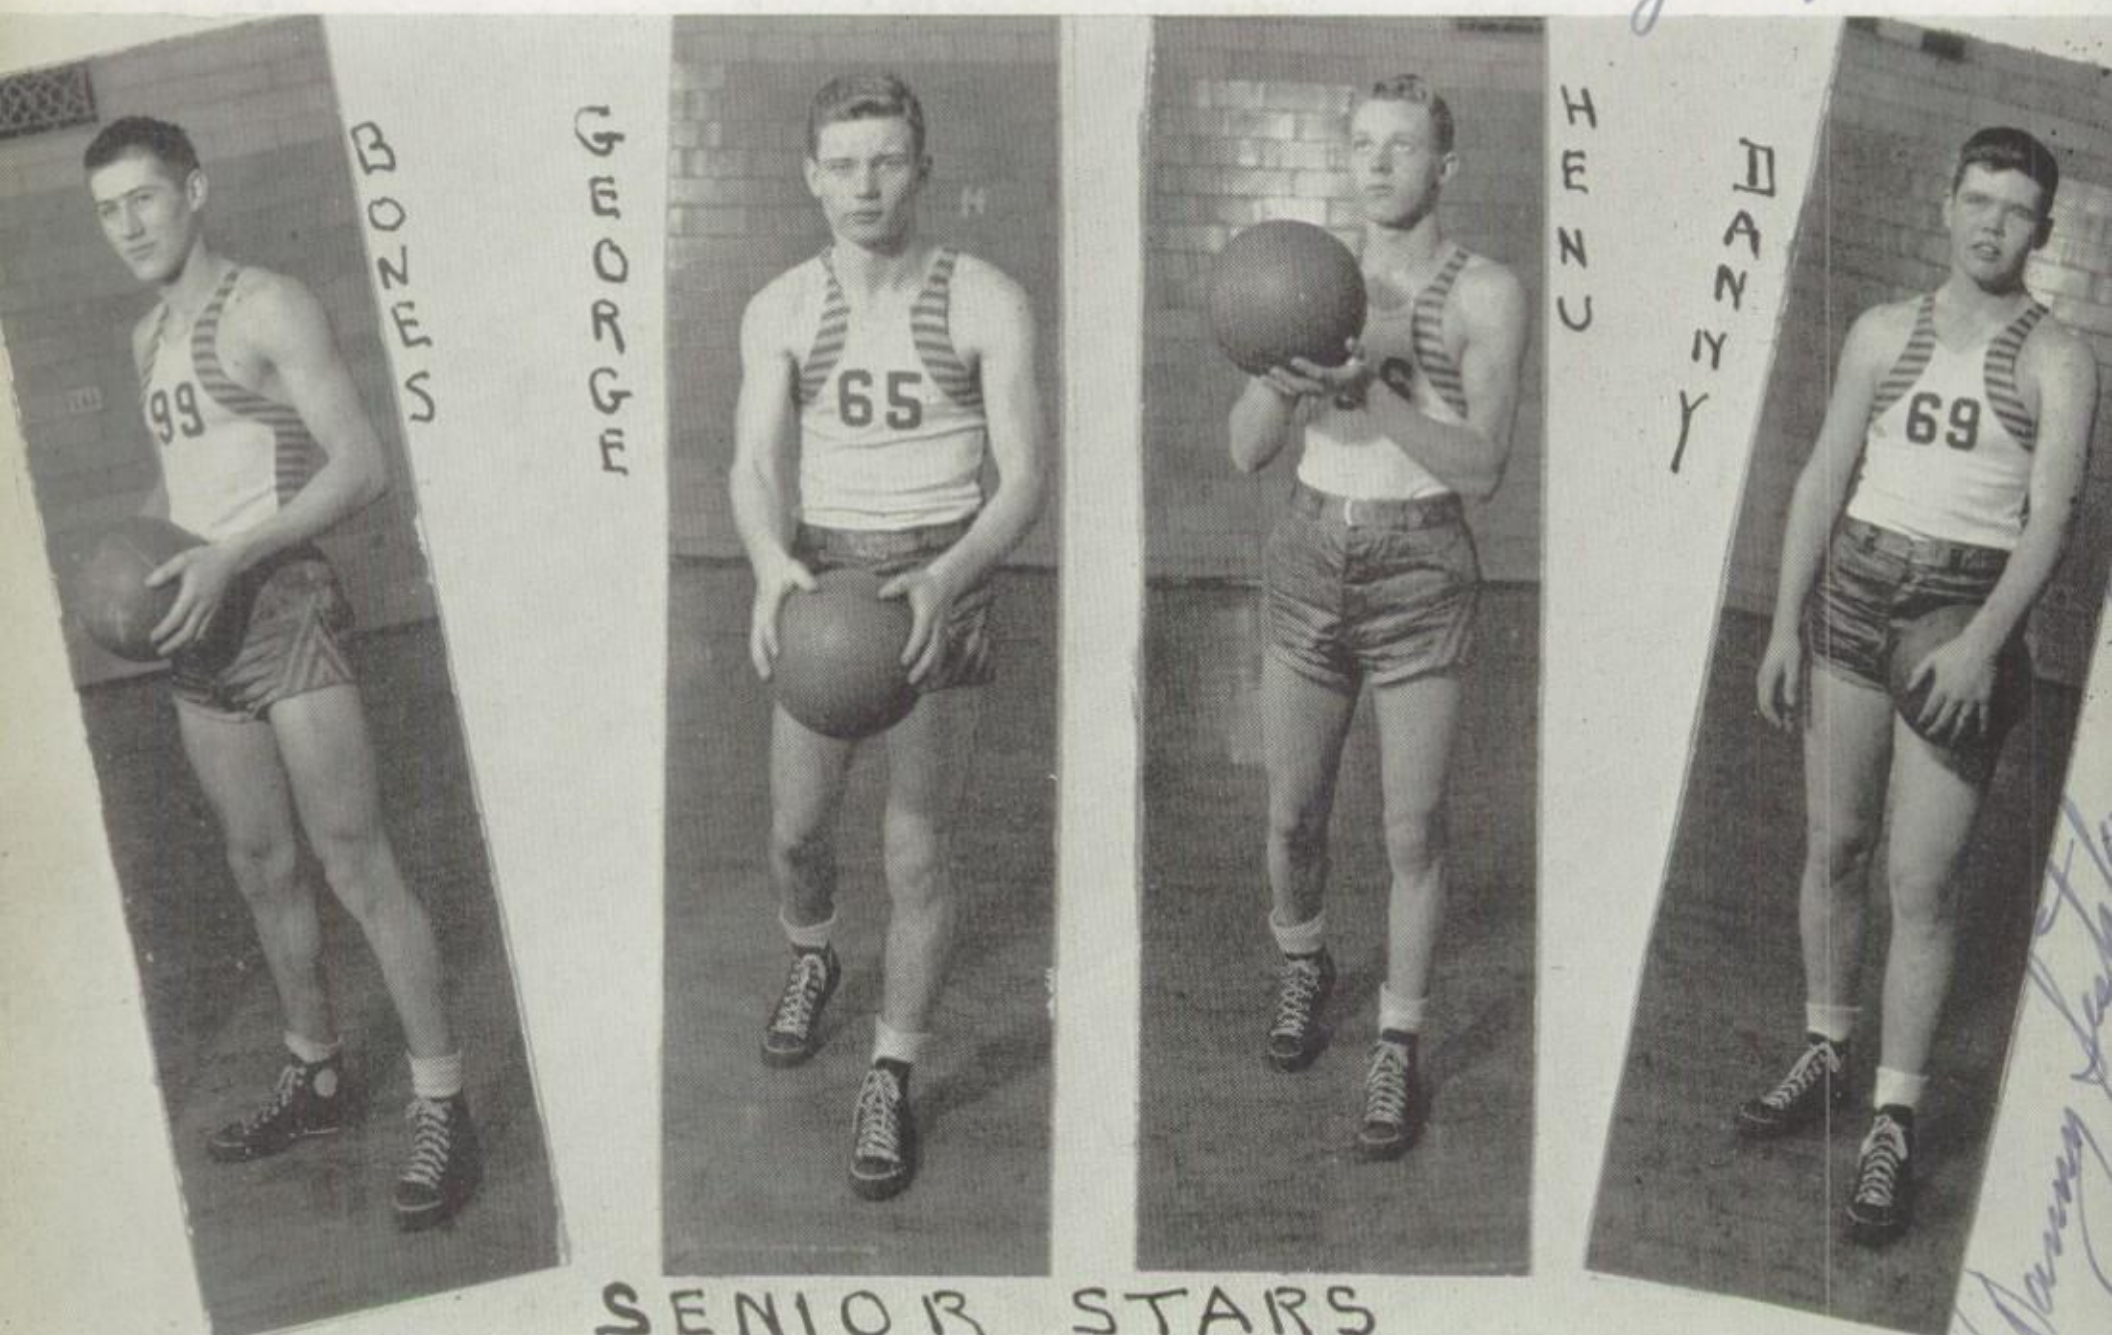

Second Row—Manager Maciejewski, Gullota, Horvatic, Agosta, Burkhart, Assistant Manager Moore.

In February, the team helped "Bones" finish his brilliant prep career by defeating a strong squad from Kankakee. "Bones" scored twenty-two points against Harvey alone this season. However, even with his spectacular playing, the Meteors ended up two points behind Harvey in the final tally.

Uncle Sam stepped into the picture soon after "Bones" graduated and called Charlie Gullota and "Henu" Zelewski into the service. Charlie, in case you don't know, was the fellow who kept pulling the game out of the fire with those beautiful long shots of his. Many a time Charlie saved the team from getting too far behind. "Hen" was a handy man to have around, he did his job, whatever it was, and he did it well. When these fellows left, we only had three really experienced players, Burkhart, Nondorf, and Agosta. George Burkhart really did a bang-up job this year. He kept improving all the time. Right up to the last George was still showing new talents.

Nondorf and Agosta were in there all the way doing a swell job, both in scoring and defense too. Eddie and Mario will be back to help build a winning team next year. Along with them will be all the others, fighting for T.F. They have the spirit and the ability so just watch them under "Jack" Kiester, who just hasn't any equal as you know.

Evelyn: Good luck to a good girl:

Here are a few individual shots for you, and a few statistics about the "big shots" on the team . . . and that's not a pun.

The four seniors are from left to right:

"Bones" Horvatic who is the best basketball player T.F. has produced in many a year.

George Burkhart whom you could depend on all the time.

"Henu" Zelewski who did a fine job whenever he was called on.

Dan Sestak who was always a mighty handy man to have around.

In the top row of "Next Year's Hopes" are:

Eddie Nondorf who is good on both offense and defense and will be a big help next year.

Charlie Gulotta whose eye for long shots will be missed. Uncle Sam took him after I mounted the picture.

Len Telechon who's a peach of a shot from the "dead" corner. If the army doesn't get him he'll be a high scorer in 44-45.

Mario Agosta who is only a sophomore but did a fine job in his first year on the varsity and will be even better as a junior.

In the bottom row are:

Tony Miniuk who was one of our most aggressive reserves and will go far next winter.

Sam Caruso who is a good south paw with great possibilities for the future.

Frankie Rogers who came through in the clinches and will see a lot more action next season.

Fresh-Sophs Football Team

The Freshman-Sophomore team certainly did all right for itself this year. They finished with a league record of nine wins and two defeats. The only team to beat our kiddies was a mighty good squad from Blue Island. Mr. Fedosky did a swell job teaching the fellows how to play basketball, but he had some good material to begin with. There were Tom Stokes, a snappy little southpaw with a big future; Auggie Ollrich, who is bound to carry on and possibly top the family fame on the court; Rudy Horvatic, a fellow who has basketball in his blood; Mike Ferrantelle, a chunky guy who really showed his stuff, and it was all good stuff, too; Norman Creviston, curly topped high scorer for the team; and Bob Shepard, the only freshman to play regularly, who will really go places next year. These are only a few of the fellows, but the point is that material like this is the foundation of future T.F. teams—and winning teams. All these boys will be back next year, bigger and better than before. Some will turn into varsity players, others will have another year of Fresh-Soph ball to season their ability. Incidentally, if those little fellows in the front row ever get a chance, you'll hear them sizzle clear down in the South Pacific.

Look at our youngsters

So Long,

Sport

Swimming and Track

Dear Pete,

Hi, fellow! Cock an ear to my woeful tale. Yep, it's a sad, sad story. Our swimming team has suffered a sorry fate. Other than one outside meet, T.F. swimmers had only the intra-murals to satisfy their surplus energy. Although it seems that our swim team must remain in the background for the duration, Mr. Fedosky is doing a grand job in supervising the boys who faithfully keep working even if they can see no immediate glory. It's fellows like those in the enclosed pictures who will keep sportsmanship alive through the war and then start with fresh enthusiasm when the war ends. In the first row are: Weinberg, Elsner, Fedosky, Anderson, and Rundle. In the second row: Skiba, Stasiak, Ruark, Gudgeon, and Besse. Last, but not least, we have: Springet, Grylls, Lenard, and Meyers.

Howdy, Luke,

Howsa Boy? Thought I'd dash off a few lines to you before heading for track practice. Yes, that season has rolled around again—at least the calendar says it has. Seems as though no one has told the weather man yet. Can't send you any pictures of the squad yet, cause we just haven't had any taken. We're gradually getting into trim and have hopes of making you former track stars sit up and take notice. Everyone of the fellows is out for practice whenever Coach gives the word. If the weather is too bad, we work in the gym. Boy, that wind has sure been snappy the few times we've been able to practice outside. Hey, the whistle blew. See you later.

Intramurals

Saludos, Amigos,

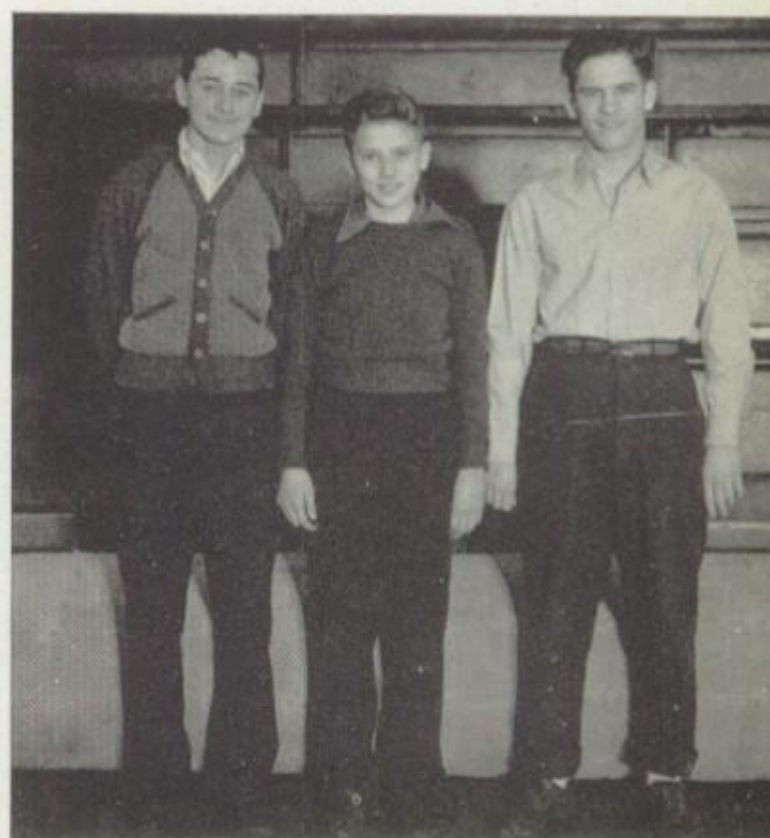

Just my way of saying, "Hiya, Jackson, what's cookin'!" There's been plenty of cooking at T.F. Among other things, the Intra-mural program has been in full swing. It was more extensive this year than ever before. Even our coaching staff, which organized the schedule was surprised at the number of entries. The fellows in these pics are the finalists. They came out on top after a tough elimination contest. Most of the boys in this Wrestling-Boxing snap-shot look rather glum. Wonder why?

Now how's about meeting the Basketball champs? This bunch of guys are really crackerjacks when it comes to basketball technique. That's Joe Shutowski squatting on the floor. Dick Blair is right next to him. Pete Pyrz, who captained the champs, is seated on the mat at the left of the pic while Daniel Daniewicz is seated at the far right. That's Henry Soczyk with Tony Horvatic standing smack-dab in the center.

INTRA MURALS

H₂O plus six B-O-Y-S gives you the Intra-mural Swimming winners in the above picture at the left. Man, these guys are pul-en-ty good. They're as agile as fish in the water. Since you liked swimming so well, you should meet: Mickey Skiba, Ed Fedosky, Irving Weinberg, Dan Anderson, Clarence Ruark, and Gordon Rundle. There were 160 entries in the swimming contests and these fellows defeated them all. Not a bad record, eh what?

Besides such strenuous sports as Swimming, Boxing, Wrestling, and Basketball, the boys also enjoyed Checkers and Ping-Pong. (Who said that Ping-Pong wasn't strenuous?) Ronald Teutemacher (left) defeated all other would be checker champs. Just look at the pleased expression on his puss!!

Little Walter Buehler (center) walked away with Ping-Pong honors. The kid must certainly be good to have eliminated everyone else in the field. Ping-Pong's a fast game. Bet he really had to step.

The smiling critter on the right is Henry "Hank" Soczyk. He won the Free Throw contest. Just call him "Basket-sinkin' Hank" from now on. Nothing like having a steady eye and an equally steady arm, is there?

That's about all the pictures I can send this time, Pal. In fact, that's all the Intra-mural pics that were taken. These fellows were the winners, the champs, victors, etc. It's just too bad we couldn't snap every single fellow who entered each contest. They're a great gang of kids and rate a smart salute. They put their hearts into these tournaments, gave them all the energy and skill they could muster. These are the boys who keep athletics alive—even a war doesn't stop them. In fact, the war has proved an added incentive in sports programs. The coaches and fellows alike realize the need to keep in top physical condition. Wish I had photos, too, of all the time, effort, and planning which entered into organizing the Intra-mural program. Every detail was minutely arranged so as to give the maximum benefit with the minimum exertion. The participation in and results of the various contests prove the success of the program.

Before signing off for awhile, I propose one rousing cheer for the athletic-minded Fractionalites and our effective coaching staff.

Just one of the spectators,

Monogram Club

Dear Hal,

You asked me, in your letter, about some of the fellows who were your opponents in the Harvey-Fractional games. It's good to know a guy from Harvey is interested in our athletes. Here is a picture of our Monogram Club, minus those fellows who are in the service. It certainly is an honor to be a member of the Monogram Club for it is the most exclusive male organization in school, since to become a member one must have earned a major letter in some sport. The initiation is a ceremony the fellows will always remember! Monogram's sponsor, Mr. Petree, supervises its activities in addition to being our athletic director.

Perhaps, you'll be seeing some of these fellows soon. You're not the only ones who can get into the armed forces, you know. Grinning at you from the front row are: R. McKinnon, R. Van Osten, D. Maciejewski, P. Mangiaracina, C. Falkenstrom, and R. Striebel. In the middle row are: J. Dunn, L. Hasiak, D. Sestakauckas, M. Agosta, F. Gudgeon, W. Kaszak, and M. Skiba. At the very top are: G. Burkhart, R. Teutemacher, R. Heimbuch, R. Blair, R. Matthews, and G. Sarros.

FLASH—SPECIAL DELIVERY—AIR MAIL

Dear Flossie,

It doesn't have anything to do with sports, Monogram Club, or anything I've been writing letters about, but I just have to tell you the news. The cast for the Junior-Senior play, "Junior Miss," has just been announced. Here it is:

Joe—Donald Olsen
Hilda—Arlene Wass
Lois Graves—Thais Chipps

Boys' Club

Hi, you old Pirate,

The annual Boys' Club Dance is always the biggest event sponsored by the boys here in school. They really put on a super showing at the gala affair this year. Wish you could have been there!

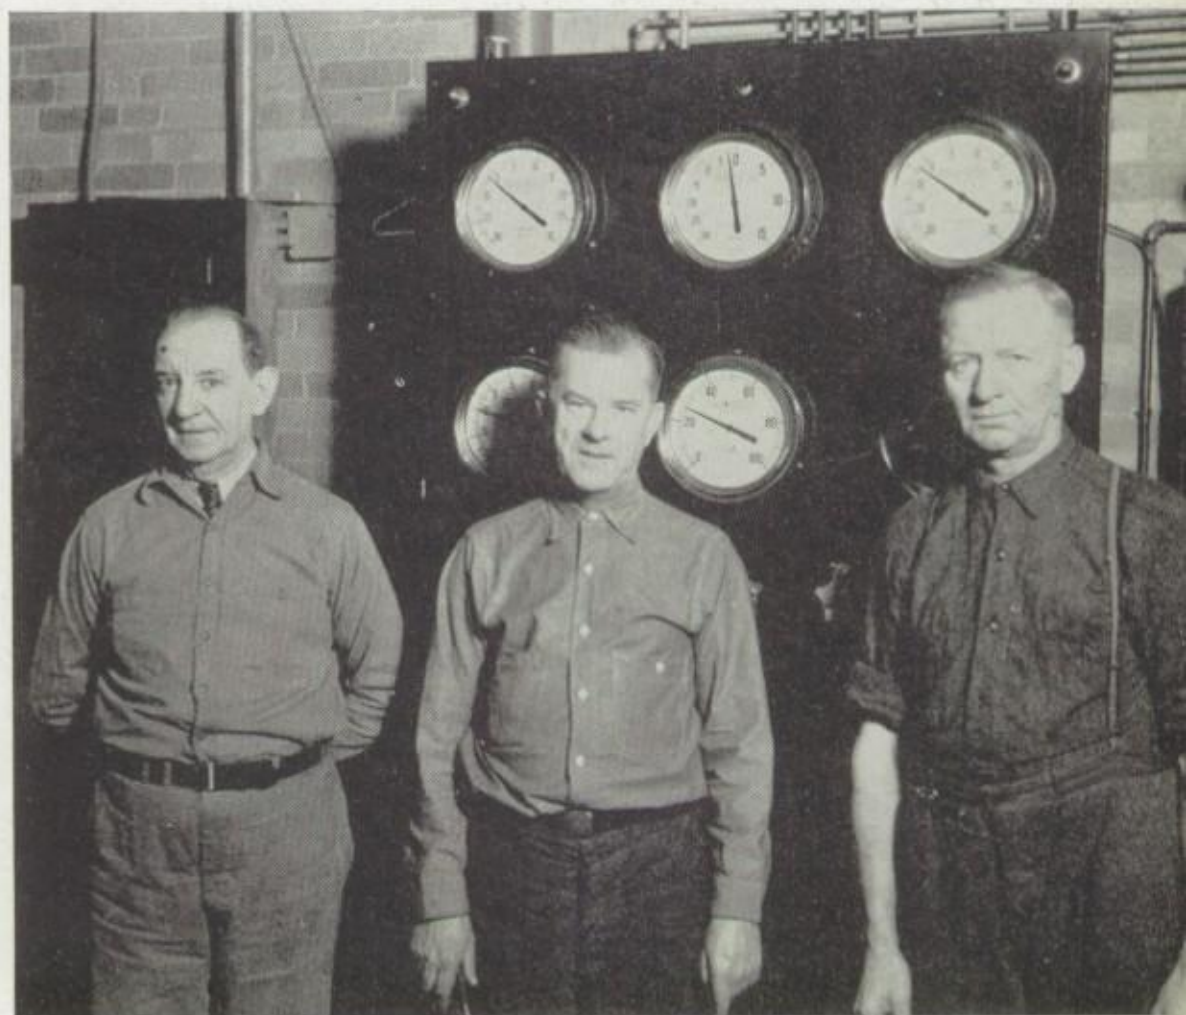

The boys sponsored several socials this year too. So, at the beginning of the year, someone got the bright idea of owning a juke box—and they now do! It came in handy at all the socials and afternoon parties, and we want the Boys' Club to know we appreciate this wise purchase.

Mr. Lambka, Boys' Club Sponsor, has "run" things well, and the boys always had fun under his direction. The picture on the right shows the officers and board members of this organization. They are: First row; Sec. R. Van Osten, C. Falkenstrom, Pres. R. Striebel, R. Striebel, J. Van Osten. Second row; W. Gindl, O. Spindler, L. McKittrick, D. Horst.

Along with the picture of Boys' Club Board, I'm sending a pic of three men who deserve a heap of credit. Nothing at school would have turned out right if Charley, Barney, and Nick hadn't had a hand in it. These friendly guys can be seen roaming the corridors any time of the day, but they always have their jobs done—and around here there are loads of them to do.

You can always recognize Barney, our general repair man, by his greeting, "Hi, ya, Pardner." Charley is the one who sees to it that we are kept warm—oh, boy! Nick has done a perfectly snazzy job of refinishing the desk tops. In other words, T.F. would be lost without these faithful workers. So, here's to them, long may they roam our halls.

Calumet City, Illinois.

Dear Mrs. Canaga:

Thanks ever so much for the newsy letter. It's a shame about Eugene Kowalski, isn't it? To me, it doesn't seem possible, because I practically grew up with him, went to grade school, then on to high.

Nothing here of any interest lately . . . same old grind, same old Texas. The weather has been rather cold in the mornings, and by noon, it's well up to 100 degrees . . . in the evenings, one has to sleep under two blankets.

I made my second class rating beginning this November. I'm so glad . . . I thought I wouldn't make it, because there are too many 2/c sailors in this loft, and the second class rating, because there are too many 2/c sailors in this loft, and more 2/c WAVES mightn't mix . . . but we fooled them all.

We have the duty tonight, again, and nothing much has happened so far but it's only 1915 (7:15 p. m.) and we have to sleep here tonight, another WAVE and I. We are on duty 24 hours a day, each section relieving another.

One by one, the fellows at the loft are slowly vanishing, so we really are taking the place of sailors.

Fifteen of us WAVES went to Arkansas Pass for the week-end. The trip was made by a whale boat, and we had more fun! The U. S. O. furnished three cottages, the Navy Commissary furnished the boat. The army entertained us there, and did all they could to see that we were satisfied. The camp is very small and the Sgt. that took us sight seeing was really wonderful. We saw the Gulf in the moonlight, and that really was a breath-taking picture. It will live in my memory for a long, long time. The waves were very rough and high, I thought that the pier would be washed away any minute when we walked on it.

Best of luck and success,

P. S. I'm next to the last girl in the picture.

 The Staff

Hi ya Bozo,

Don't say I never gave you anything cause here are those pictures you've been waiting for. I'll bet you've already looked the faces off of them, but in case you haven't placed them all, maybe I can help you.

That individual picture is Miss A. C. Jaacks, our sponsor and pal. In short, "a sportsman's sport" or maybe it would be better just to call her "our Jaacks" and be done with it, Agree?

See that long skinny picture. Well, that's the rest of the G.A.C. group picture that had to be cut so it would fit the envelope. Now you've got the whole thing. Sorry I couldn't include the new initiates when the picture was taken but, as we seniors like to say it, THEY WERE STILL RECUPERATING, especially Betty Wright who hit the jackpot and took the proceeds like a "man."

See if you can find Betty Lesmeister, Lois Henley, Ruthie Schultz, and Lila Mae Winterhoff in the group picture. They're the ones who received their major letters at the Initiation Party in February.

The other snap shows the officers and the board. In the front row are Shirley Lietzan, baseball; Betty Tevis, volleyball; Susie Regnier, swimming; Ruth Schultz, president; and Clarice Raczkowski, secretary.

Those in the back row are Beryl Jones, treasurer; Janet Schultz, vice-president; Lois Henley basketball; and Jean Wilke, recording secretary.

Sorry—I can't reveal the Senior Honor Athlete but as yet I don't know who she is myself. When I find out, I'll send the news by our excellent grape-vine system.

Tomorrow, I'll have more pictures for you. I'll write again then.

G. A. C. Class Winners

Hi Pam,

The other day as I was walking through the halls, I suddenly remembered that I had a G. A. C. snap-shot that I could send to you. You'll probably recognize these old familiar faces and picture them deftly spiking a ball or sinking a basket. Can't you just see this team in action? As alert as birds in the trees and as quick as eagles, they're ready for anything.

The picture shows the seniors who won the volley^l ll and captain basketball tournaments. The only exceptions are that Veyon Boyd, who is not in the picture, was on the captain basketball team, and Mary Alice Carroll was on only the volleyball team. The rest of these gals showed their stuff in both sports and how they did show it.

Most of these gals have been coming to G. A. C. every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday after school since they were freshmen. Couldn't we say they are now "accomplished" sports lassies?

I haven't the snapshots of the winners of basketball or baseball yet but will send them soon. The seniors won the basketball tourney, too, so that picture will have almost the very same girls on it.

How's that for an all-star team?

Anonymously yours,
(as if I could be)

How-d-do-dy, Old Pal,

There's never a dull moment here. Well, not often, anyway! The newest things I ran across were these pictures of G. A. C. Volleyball and Captain Basketball varsities. There are some real live-wired girls shown in these pics. A girl sometimes looks as if she's so alive you couldn't hold her down. These girls had so much pep and ability Miss Jaacks slated them for the volleyball varsity.

Say, Skee-zix, that other picture shows the Captain Basketball varsity. They had to be good basemen and super guards to warrant their being "varsity material". Just look at those gals! Can't you picture a well-aimed shot leaving their hands and dropping, right through the basket?—Just so matter-of-factly, yet so quickly and surely. They have steady hands and quick minds. Do you recognize any of these "sure-shots?"

Terrapin

Hello Dearie,

How's the old splasher. I suppose you're making out swimmingly. Just got home from Terrapin session. Surely did miss your playful antics in the pool. The club is still riding along on a wave, now that the scare of shutting down the pool is over. We're working on our achievement tests along with Life Saving. We figured Life Saving will come in mighty handy this summer because of the scarcity of male life guards. Can't you picture any of us sitting way up on a deck chair.

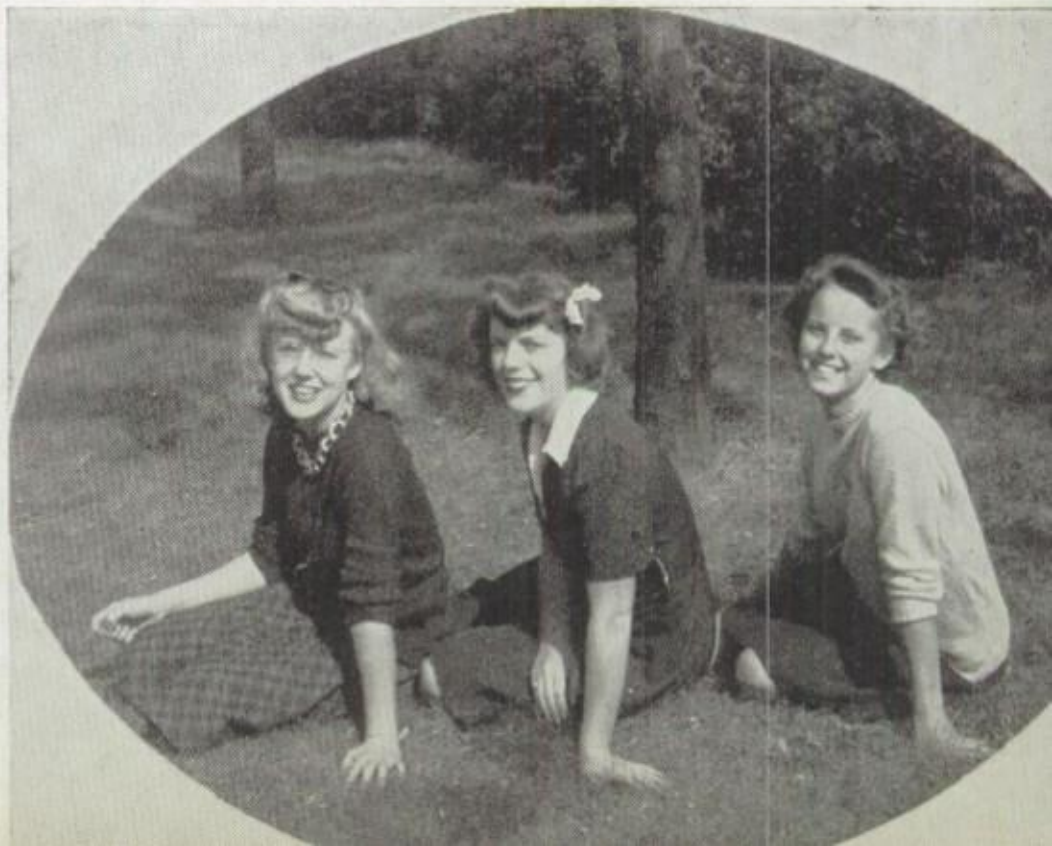

We had our ballet down pat this year for the Carnival, accompanied by same soft accordin music we had last year. The initiation was just as murderous as ever. Sorry; I don't know the results of our Marathon Swim yet, but I'll write you later.

Here's a couple of shots for your rogues gallery. Doesn't Miss Shemaitis look scrumptious? She still is too, believe me. The three gals are this year's officers, Joyce Hoff, vice president on the left, next is "President" Murrin, and Roberta Madison is the gal with the smile. (Maybe it's because she's the treasurer and has a lot of cash!) Give the pic to your top sergeant for a pin-up.

Hello you—

This is the calm before the storm, (you know, the just before final exam lull), so I thought I'd scribble off to you some of the what's what and who's who in Girls' Club this year.

We really did things, but what else could you expect with such a super bunch of officers? Working with Miss Schmidt, they planned 44's activities. Everyone turned out so "just right" that it will be marked indelibly on a page in each T.F. girl's memory book.

First on the calendar came the Big and little Sister Party to lay the cornerstone for the freshies' social life. It's tradition for freshies to be green, and they fulfilled all requirements, but in an extra-cute way, of course.

Hallowe'en and a Girls' Club Party always seem to go together, and this year's reminded me of my old "trick or treating" days.

After calming the "greenies" down to school routine and having the Hallowe'en Party, we sprouted ourselves a few gray hairs in due respect to the man shortage and the coming Girls' Club Dance. November 10 was the deadline. With lipsticks clutched in their hot little fists, all the gals proceeded to set efficient bear traps for the unsuspecting males. They worked too, cause a record breaking crowd trotted to the Paper Doll Dance. Cute theme, huh? Sarah Rider, big boss, and her committee, did a nifty job. Oh, joy, did I ever have a wonderful time!

Let's see now, what came next? Oh, yes, the Carnival! Girls' Club pitched in with a triple feature for the concessions after the "Victory Caravan" stage show. There was Madame Fifi Bong-bong, (alias Joan Hays) who revealed the mysteries of the future, for a small fee. "Games of Chance" and "Moments of Bliss" went over in a big way, too.

But one thing that you always know will be extra specially nice, is the Girls' Club Board Christmas Tea. The decorations look so pretty and it's fun to see all the Board members don their Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes and manners, acting (I won't say "Grown up" either) a little more calm and dignified. Mrs. Mayers still turns out the "goodies" she used to make—remember?

The days of our precious Christmas vacation went flying by and before we knew it, the Sophomore girls were sipping punch at their class tea. Sounds funny, doesn't it, but they like punch better, sugar rationing or no. I wonder if you still worry over things in general as much as you did over the Sophs' tea the year you were chairman.

The Boys' Club Board members helped to entertain the midterm "freshies" at the Big and Little Sister, "Maybe I'd better say 'Brother'" too, party in January. And the committee dreamed up the cutest way to find our little sisters and baby brothers by cutting pictures into puzzle-like pieces, and then matching the parts. Variety—the spice of life, you know! It really is a good thing to get the new "little ones" started off on the right track. I know I was thrilled to death to have a big sister watching over me.

Skinned-up knees and spills galore! Okay, so you guessed it—the Roller Skating Party. But whether they mopped up the floor (as I did) or glided around a la Sonja Henie, it was fun for all.

The Senior Girls Luncheon gave me the funniest feeling. I suppose it was 'cause it brought the thought of graduation so much closer. It felt nice, though, to get all dressed up and act as a "dignified senior".

The Mother and Daughter Party—you can understand why I'm speechless when it comes to that. No girl could ever forget what a beautiful and impressive ceremony it is. The long rows of lighted candles at Installation make me feel so solemn, and yet I'm so very happy and teary after the pins are given out and the new president announced. This one was typical just as nice as always—that's all I need say 'cause I know you understand being a "old girl" yourself.

I'll bet you think that was the end of Girls' Club doings, but, aha—surprise—I've saved the things that we're the proudest of 'till last. Our Christmas Seal Sale, with the help of the screwy faculty assembly, collected lots and lots of money, the most ever. Pat on the back number one for T.F.'s whole student body. In our War Work, selling Stamps and Bonds we really went over the top. Pat number two—not just because the whole school backed up the drive and bought steadily, but because everyone realized the importance and need for more loans to provide equipment for "our boys".

That just about winds up the Girls' Club clock for this year, but you can be sure our underclassmen will keep it in good running order for a bushel more of activities next year.

Bye now,

Phyll

Musical Maidens

Hi Ho Silver,

Maybe you just think this year's sextette isn't as silvery voiced (or maybe golden) as you folks used to be, but we think this gang is strictly on the bean. You probably won't know all of them since some of them weren't even in school when you left. They are: Tommy Voss, Pianist.

The girls have Mr. Schuelke for director now, and they like him a lot. They've sung at several club affairs in town, and of course they were in the music festival, the Christmas concert, and the Carnival. They're good.

It certainly seems as if I ought to see you once in a while. As soon as you get a chance, come and we'll have a real gab fest—and it won't be just about girls and music.

Unohu

Dear Lois,

Remember how much you used to enjoy the Girls' Chorus back in the days when Miss Helen Brazzill had charge of it. In the meantime Mr. McPhail and Mr. Kingdon directed and now the baton wielder is Mr. Schuelke, our newest history teacher. Mr.

Schuelke and the girls give out at the same old time, second lunch hour, and is it nice to listen in when the gym doors are left open! Mr. Uhle snapped this picture out on the bleachers one day. It was dark, and he just had a small camera, but I think you can make out most of the girls. They are:

Commercial Club Confidences

Dear Thorny:

Well, light of my glamorous life, June has rolled around again, and I have a lot to tell.

When you planted that parting kiss on my briny cheek that day you left, I promised myself I'd do all you said I ought to. Here's the report, my own Romeo.

September saw T.F. open its doors to all of us hopefuls. We trudged reluctantly back to see the same teachers holding high the torch of learning (even if it did strike us as totally unnecessary light), and we sat indifferently as far from the beam as space permitted and blissfully trusted the rays would reach us merely because we were there. Football season came. We went to all the games, howled ourselves hoarse, idolized the players, and jumped joyfully into the basketball season. We followed that with equal hilarity.

Gee, Thorny, T.F. is a grand place! Now that my four years are almost over, I realize it, and I know what you meant when you kidded me into being happy about going back. You were so right.

I'm ready to go to work. Incidentally, I have my job waiting for me. And do you know what? I'm not a bit scared of it!

I joined the Commercial Club last fall and worked like a beaver to get my pin. The teachers kept me jumping—typing all kinds of stuff for them. Sometimes I thought they were unreasonable in what they wanted done, but since no one made me do any of the work, I typed class notes and lists, ditto master sheets, stencils, and other junk—while I muttered in my beard. I'm pretty happy over it now, because that work gave me confidence and helped me get that good job I've got cornered for July 1.

Don't forget, Thorny, you said I could be your confidential secretary when I landed my first job!

Yours for lots of confidence,

Ann

Dear Friends:

One of the fellows somehow got a THORNTONIAN, and believe me although it was old, it took me right back to the good old days at T. F.

It was good to hear of the fellows I went to school with and where they are. It seems to me that the boys from good old T. F. do good wherever they are.

I wish I could have visited the old place, but I had my furlough in July and they had locks on the doors, but I guess we'll see the old place shortly, just as long as you people keep punching in the rear and we'll keep punching 'em on the chin.

I guess Ed Fedosky will coach the swimming team. I wish I was there now, because what little I know about diving was taught to me by Ed. Lots of luck to you, Ed. I hope you have a championship team.

I wish I would have taken French in school, because that's the language the Arabs talk up here and that's all Greek to me.

Hope I hear from some of you soon
Well, I'll close now.
As Ever,

Ted

P. S. Hey you guys, there are a lot of French babes up here.

Willing Workers

Dear Dorry,

Whenever we hear reports concerning the work of Red Cross Nurses, we at T.F. swell up with pride thinking of you and the rest in the service. For us in school, active service is impossible, but we do help through the American Junior Red Cross.

Since you were such a faithful member on the J.R.C. Council last year, would you be interested in knowing what we did this year? I thought you would, so here goes!

We started off with a biff in September when all the students enrolled, making T.F. 100% for J.R.C. At our first meeting representatives were chosen who would attend a Chicago meeting every month to make plans. The four selected were Shirley Bogart, Eileen Nichter, Anthony Grady, and Jack Haney.

The biggest accomplishment the first half of the year was a "super" exhibit at the Carnival. (Remember seeing the picture?) All the articles displayed were made by kids in T.F. These included; scuffies, afhgans, beside covers, Christmas cards, tray mats, menu covers, scrapbooks and a Pictorial Honor Roll.

The Art Class deserves a vote of thanks for making menu covers and tray mats all during the year. These were sent to boys in Army and Navy Hospitals in or near Chicago.

The Pictorial Honor Roll was the hit of the exhibit. There were three large posters showing former T.F. studnts now in service. Anthony Grady and his committee thought up the neat and unique method of displaying them.

An Arts and Skills program was conducted in December. Yarns, ribbons, twines, cords and the like were collected, plus $25 with which to purchase more articles. These odds and ends are used in Occupational Therapy—work which gives fellows something to do in the hospitals.

This isn't all either. We conducted a War Fund Drive, too, and the kids really co-operated.

That about ends J.R.C. activities for 1943-44, Dorry. Keep up your good work—we are all backin' you!

'Bye now,
Crossy

P.S. These pictures show the officers and council members who represent the kids at T.F. in a Jr. Red Cross Council. They're one fine bunch, believe me! I'll roll call 'em.

Hello Old Bean,

I suppose you were not puzzled a sec when you gazed upon these enclosed faces. You know it's this year's Library Club. But didn't it amaze you to see our little male additions.

These fellows did a bang up job and we hope to add more like them on our membership list as time goes by. That is, if the male population here at T.F. isn't completely extinct by then. It's dwindling rapidly, although a lot of boys showed up when the Library Club gave a Skating Party.

Remember the good ole days when you used to sit in the third row and I'd stand at the main desk and wink at you. Those pet aviation books of yours have mounted in number and up along with a lot of other new books about the latest inventions and war statistics. Well, petsky, I must toddle along now, so by by.

Band Braggin'

Hiya Hob!

Sliding down a cadenza during band practice one morning set me to thinking. (No cracks necessary, thank you!) Things have been really cookin' in band this year, and a bright idea in the back of my head tells me that maybe you'd like to be in on the know.

I'll bet all the kids here at T.F., not in the band, never suspect all the fun that we have just practicing at the daily rehearsals. No bunk—that's as much a part of band to all us veterans (ahem, that also includes you) as marching at football games and playing for concerts.

Take a gander at the pics and you'll notice lots of new faces. We need 'em tho' to balance all the sections. At the Christmas Concert we really made a nice showing. Everything went off just right, and the band in particular sounded as good, if not better than ever. (Of course, all of the present members of the Musicians Union No. TFTHS prefer the latter).

Band Officers—Row 1: Claudine Alward; Phyllis Harle; Tom Voss; Bernadine Geisen; Marjorie Bauer.
Row 2: Stanley Ciciora; Bob Striebel; Harvey Braak; Jean Sciarzero; Charlene Pike.

Here's the picture I told you I'd send. Standing: Betty Oakes; Peggy Laeschke; Joyce Carr; Sally Orkis; Armin Kraegel; LaVerne Zick; Isabel Henderson; Lillian Jernigan; Dolores Chickowicz.

Kneeling: Clarabelle Hogatt; Helen Cowenhoven; Laura VanDeraa.

You should have seen the twirlers, Armin included, strut their stuff at all the football games. Plenty okay! Marching at games, oh happy day! Or don't you care for marching now? The clarinets, as usual, had trouble hanging onto their music—such a windy place, the gridiron—and the rest of us, not to be outdone, had occasional lapses of memory as to where we belonged in what manoeuvres. I don't think I'll ever forget that—or our "Hip hip hooray" and our frozen feet and fingers, either.

Now the temperature at basketball games is much more pleasant and the stage makes a grand ring-side seat, too. I forgot to mention that we played the best songs during the basketball season. "Stouthearted Men," "Tea For Two"! That's merely a sample, and just hearing them makes you want to melt.

Yessir, the band is doin' all right.

S'long Sailor,

Here's another pic—isn't it a honey! These are the main twirlers. Right to left: Joyce Carr; LaVerne Zick; Sally Orkis; and Isabel Henderson.

Orchestral Overtones

Greetings, you in Navy Blue!

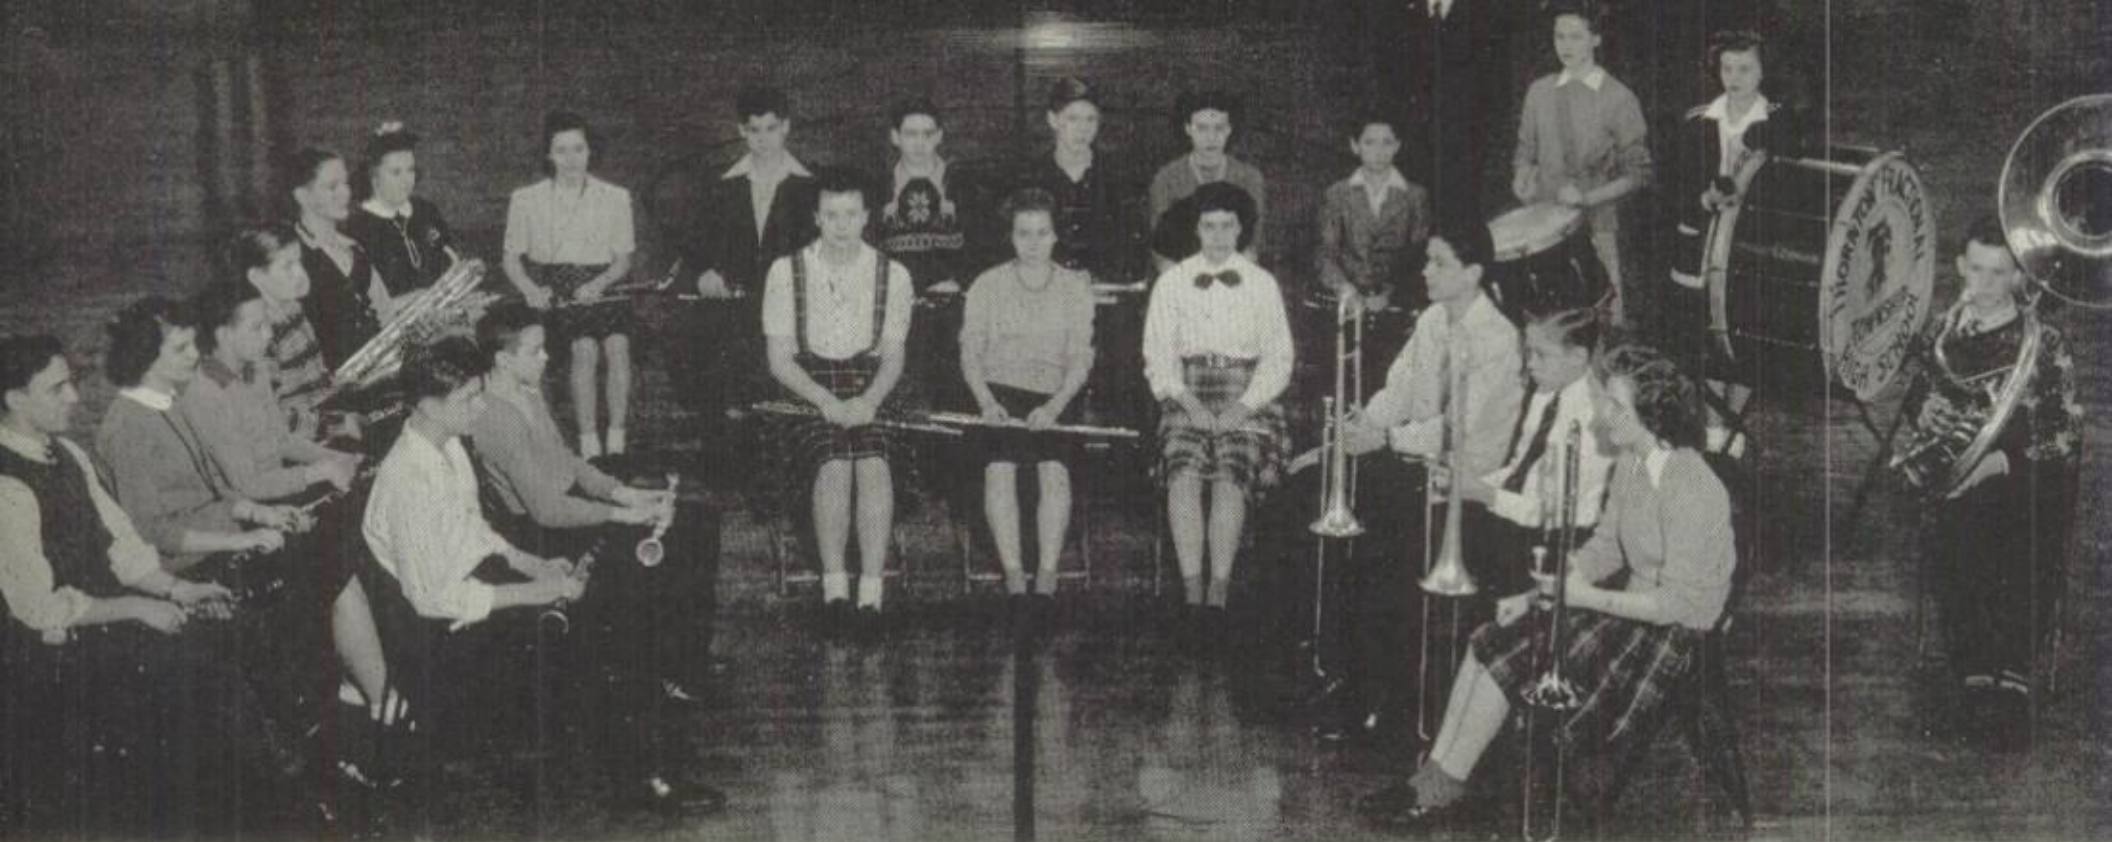

Shortages, shortages everywhere you turn, and yep, there was a shortage in orchestra, too. We were mighty low on strings, first violins in particular, this year, but if you'd heard "Two Guitars" or any other number on our Christmas Concert program, you wouldn't have noticed the difference. Aha, all that practicing we do on Tuesday and Thursday mornings really counts. Well, "practice makes perfect", they say!

Not exactly orchestra, but practically, is the Woodwind Quartet made up of the flute, oboe, and two clarinet players in the orchestra. A mighty nice group, they played "out" on several entertainment programs.

Kind like a shy little girl who doesn't say much, the orchestra goes on, quietly (well, sometimes) practicing for the play or usually just for fun. But I know for sure that you'll agree with me when I say that whether or not the orchestra has chances to play for many doings, it earns its reward by playing for graduation each year. Right?

Dear Wayne,

I was up visiting Cadet Band the other day, and what do you know—not a single squeak, toot, or discord in the place. They're really learning to be musicians now, and with Mr. Schuelke waving the baton, have been turning out some polished numbers. That's just the place for all the "new ones" to break in their horns (and themselves), so they'll be ready and all set to jump into big band when Mr. Christian gives his "okay."

The Meistersingers have been mentioned before in this long chain of letters, but I just wouldn't be getting in all the "musical stuff" if I neglected to squeeze in a word or so about them here. They do quite a bit of outside singing, too, but I remember best the shows they put on at Carnival time and their singing for the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Really nice!

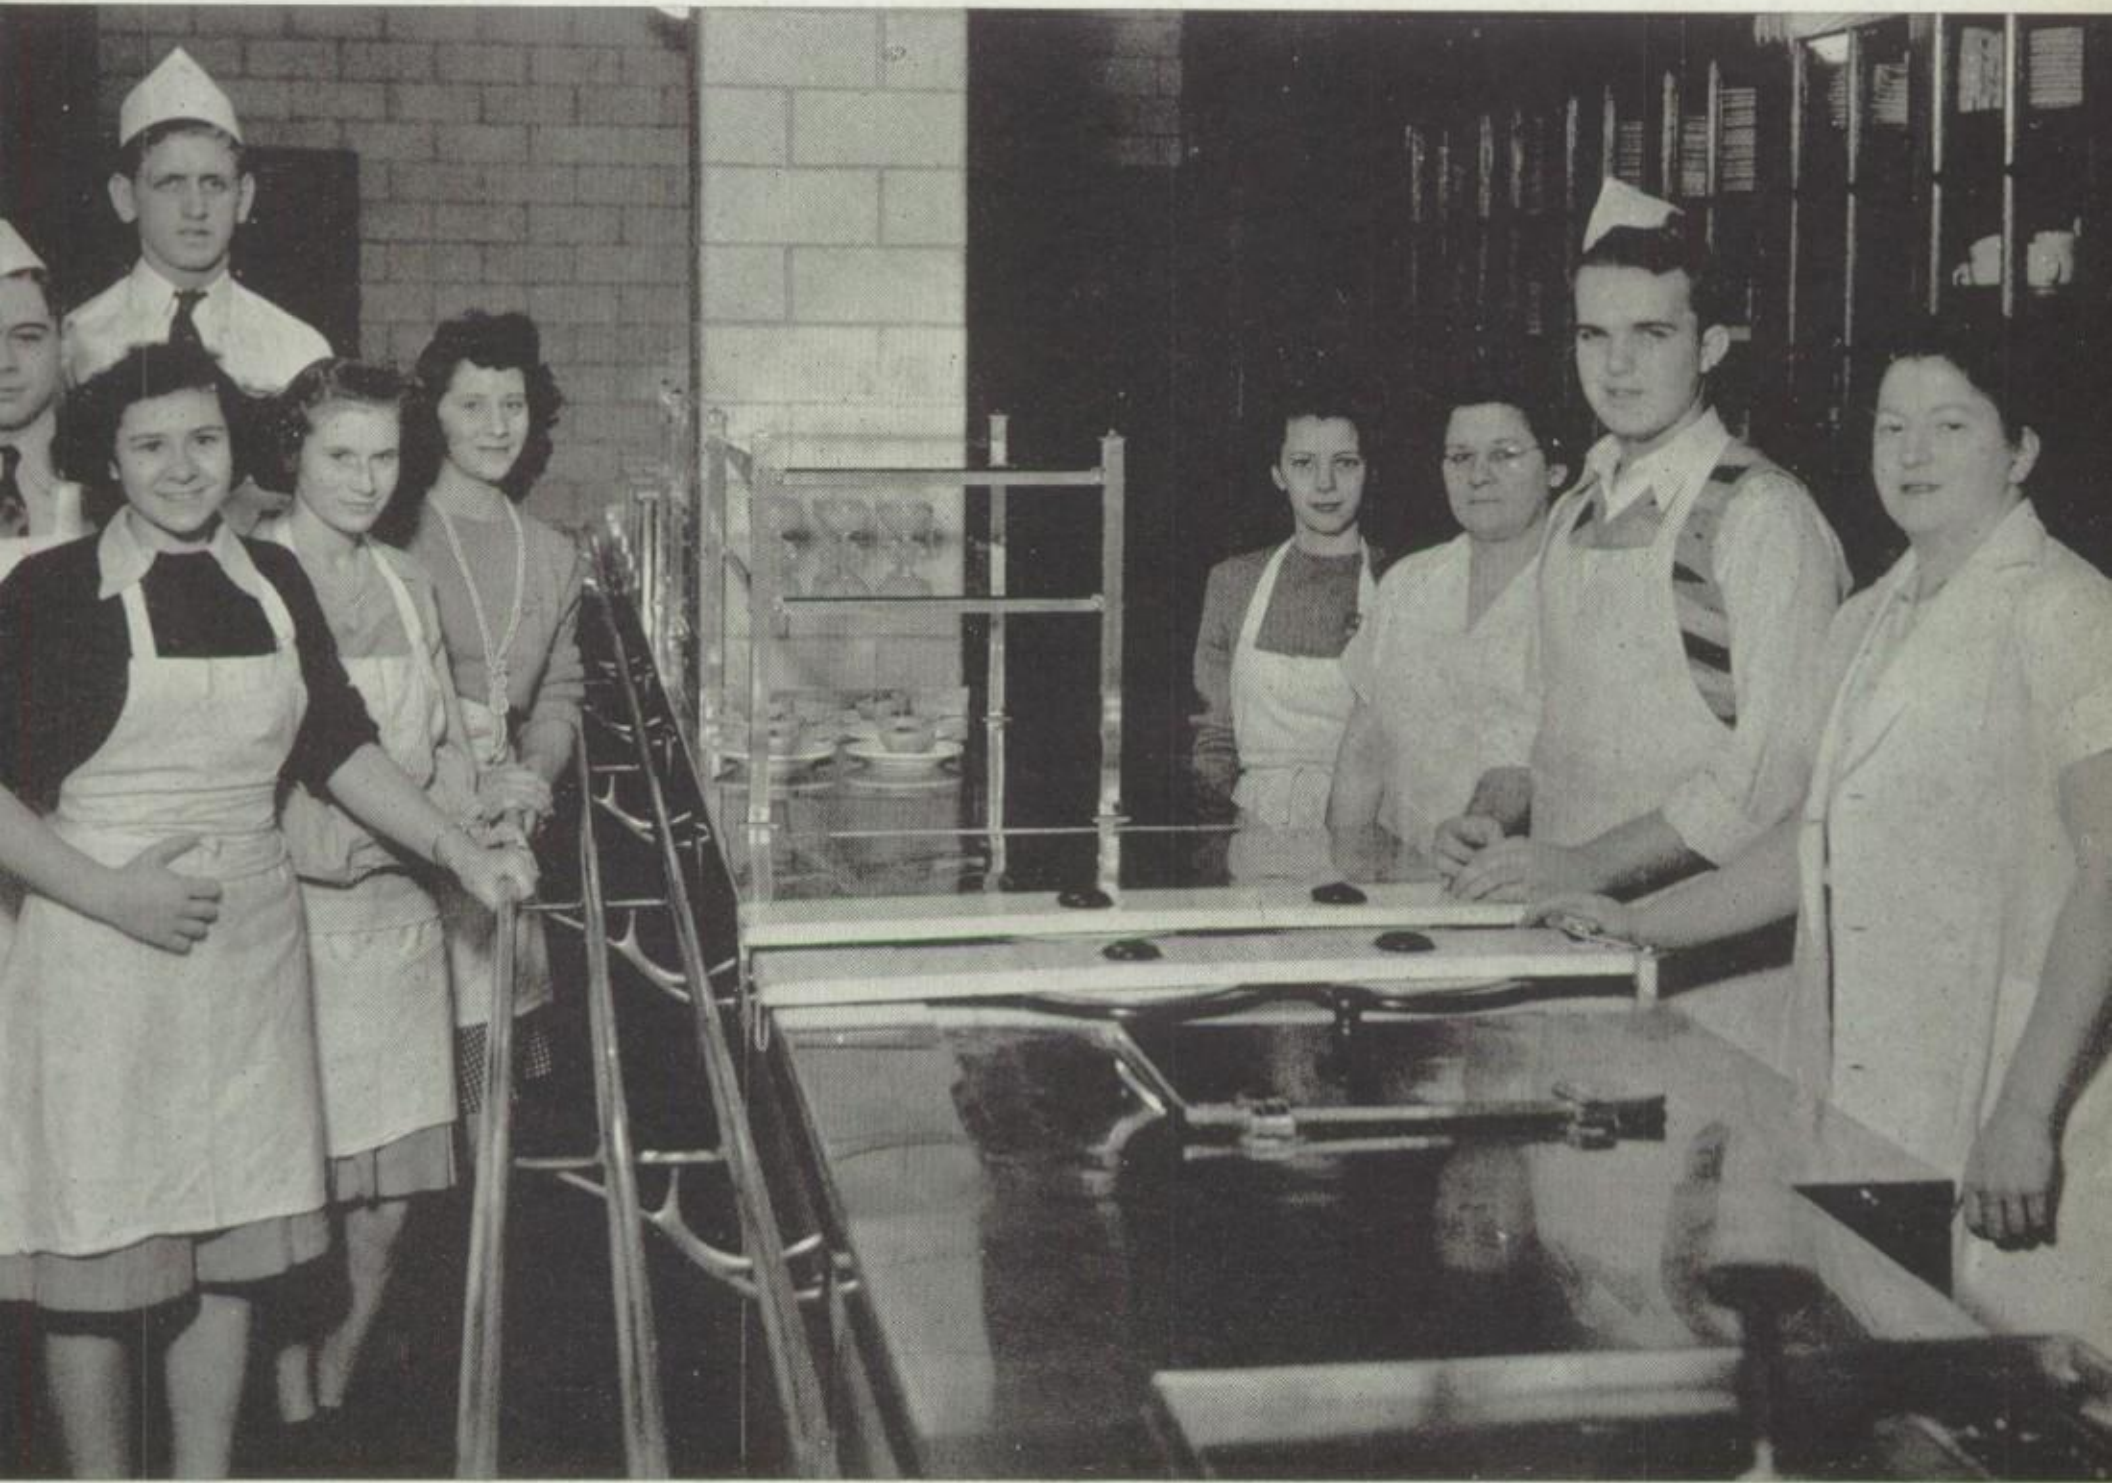

And that sort of blows taps for all us musicians.

The Cadet Banders are: Front row—left to right: H. Furmanski, D. Mehler, F. Van Drunnen, E. McNair, R. Striebel, F. Kulczyk, J. Massel

Second row—left to right: A. Larrance, E. Imes, R. Stenberg, S. Ciciora, E. Gorecki, L. Gill, P. Cederholm

Meistersingers not in picture: V. Christianson, R. McKinnon, T. Lietzan, R. Starnes

Whom Do We Blame When the Soup Is Cold?

Left rear: Jack Demps, Mike Kubitka. Front: Suzy Regnier, Barbara Stephens, and Florence Krisco

Dear Ziggy,

Betcha the chow line on a sub doesn't go through a cafeteria like this. We still like the fourth period better than any other in the day, have no trouble packing away our "witamins," and we still sing "Happy Birthday" whenever we can find a victim.

This is the gang we sometimes praise, and often blame for the way our meals are prepared—as if we could do it. Such is life!

The gal by herself, who wasn't here the day we took the other picture, is our own Ruth Cronkright. Ruth started as a student assistant way back in the old building and has been helping to feed us ever since.

Dear Al,

We've had ourselves a deuce of a time getting this Chronoscope out (and on time). The film shortage was bad enough, but the crowning exasperation was the "synthetic rubber cement." You had enough experience pasting pics yourself to know that only rubber cement will do for this kind of work—and the rubber cement wouldn't stick. Then we had a typewriter shortage 'cause we turned one of our precious staff machines over to the government and we've typed pages for this book everywhere from the band-room to the office, but you know, I'll bet we've had more fun than if everything had gone smoothly. Everybody realized the situation and pitched in. Miss Kessinger loaned us typists every once in a while and, well, we dood it at last.

If you like this book, (and if you don't you're goofy), say special thanks to Dot Mazer, Phyl Harle, Joan Gotham, Kelly Callahan, and Eileen Nichter, who did oodles of the work. Of course the whole bunch is good, but you know how it is—there are always a few who are better than good.

This letter sounds a bit solemncholy. Probably that's just because we are heaving a big sigh of relief right now, and it could be that we're a bit lonesome for you.

How's about a nice long letter?

Publications Provide Punch

Dear "Kronk,"

Let the TRIBUNE and the SUN each keep on thinking that it's the best paper in the Chicago area 'cause we know that only the THORNTONIAN can really claim that honor. Of course, we're too modest to say so.

If you'd been here instead of with Uncle Sammy, you'd have been on the staff and poor Doc's hair would be a lot grayer by this time. We've done as well as could be expected without you. "Kelly has been a peach of an editor and Nick made a swell assistant. Between the two of them they certainly got things done and made the rest of us step.

Joan Gotham deserves a pat on the back for her column about the fellows in service, and Dot Mazer should have a couple (pats, not fellows) for always being around to help type. Mac was mighty faithful with Girls' Sports, but shucks, the whole staff did a good job, including yours truly, so I now take my bow and slip in a picture of the editorial staff.

Bye till soon,
"Herself"

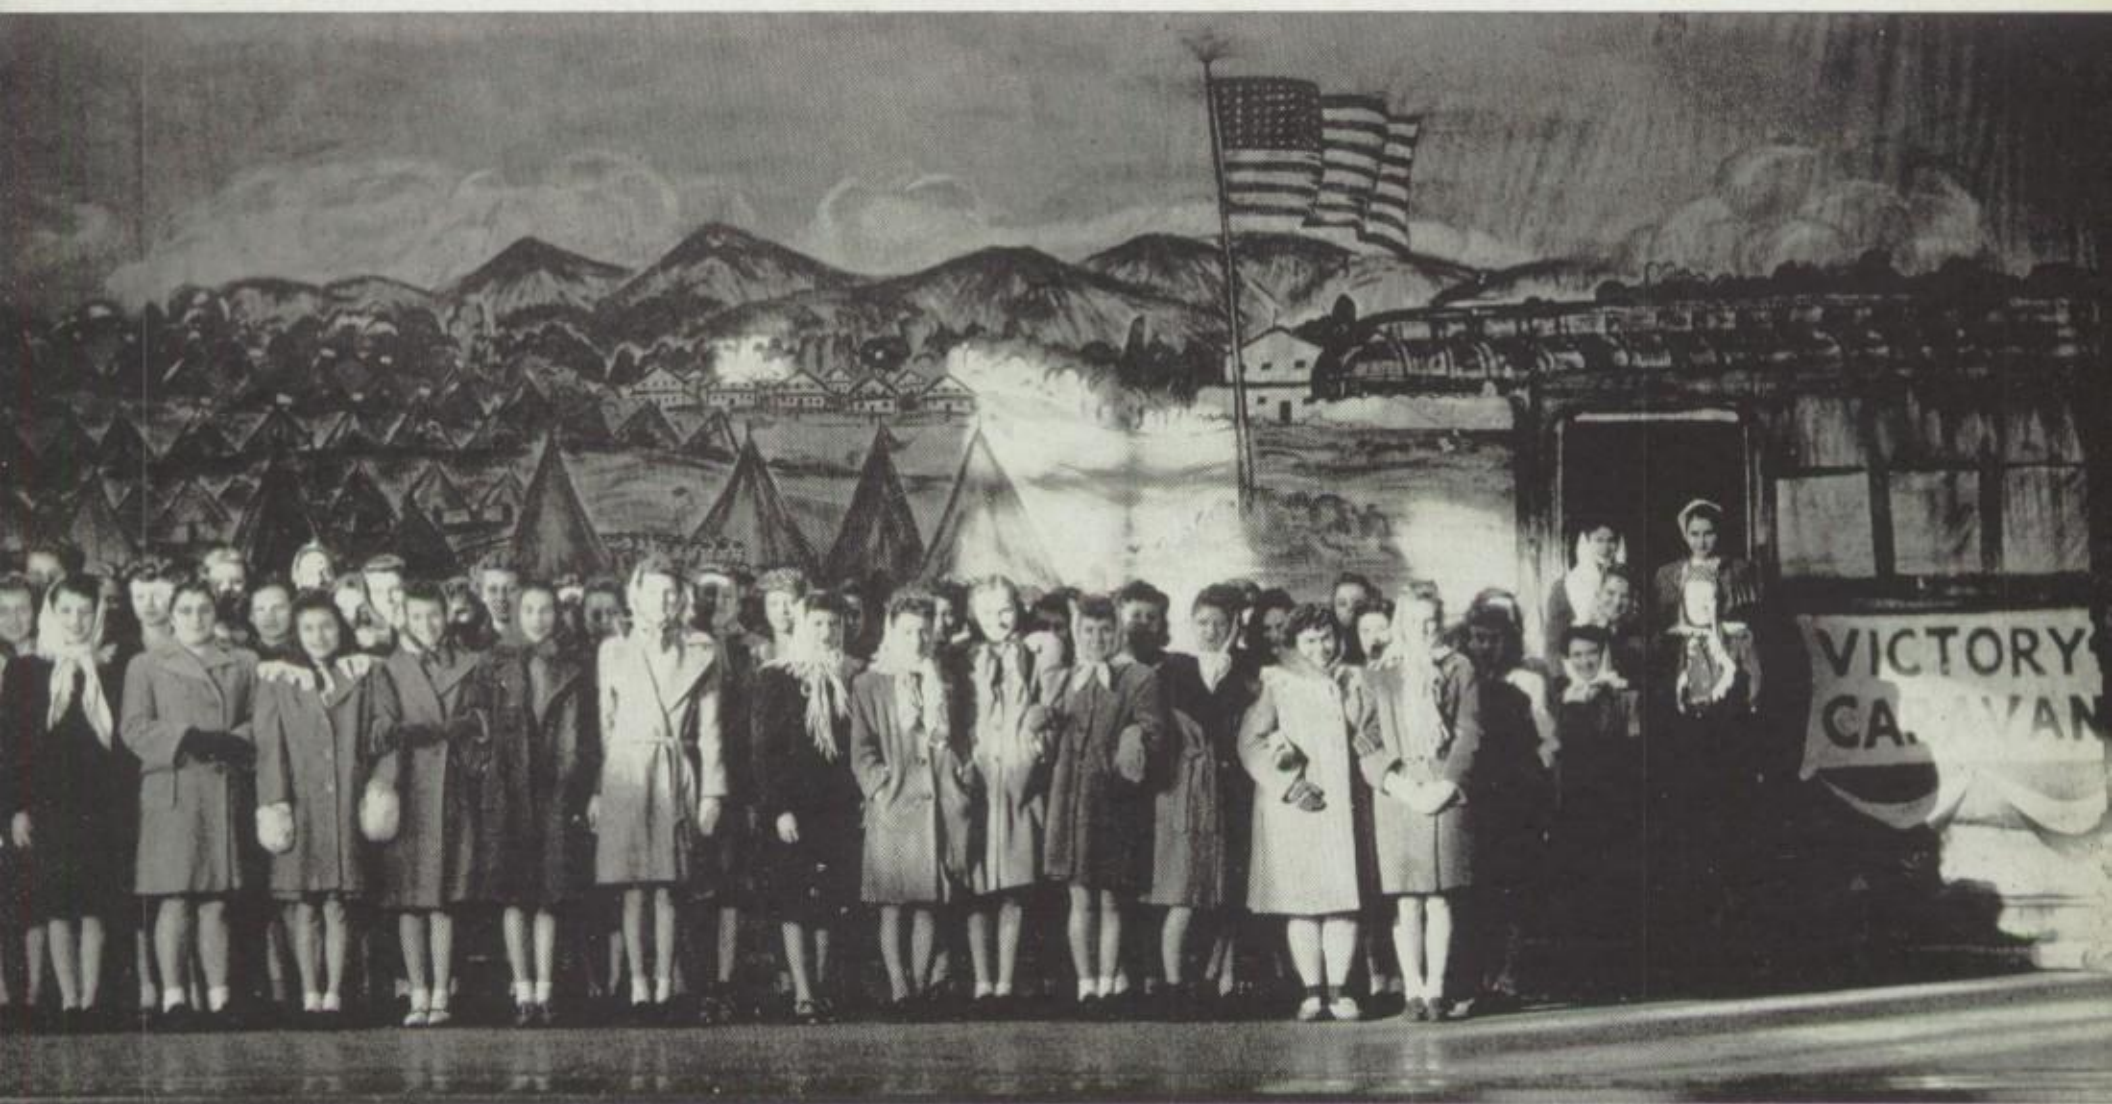

P.S. I almost forgot I had a picture of the whole staff (except for you, it's last year's journalism class). Somebody got hold of it and put the label on. Oh well, maybe we are. (Darling, I mean). Remember everybody? In the horseshoe formation (for luck) in the front row are Bob Striebel, Kathleen Callahan, Arlene Wass, Thais Chipps, Annette Goyke, Sarah Rider, Margie Bauer, and Bob Van Osten. The lines are rather irregular (just like our methods), but in the second row, reading from left to right, are Marilou Carroll, Betty Rentner, Katsy Boglarsky, and Phyllis Harle. Third Row, Pat Lauer- man, Dot Mazer, Joan Gotham, Grace Jones, and Charlene Zelzer. Looking down on the rest of us from the top row are, Mary Alice Carroll, Gordon Buffington, Eileen Nichter, and Lila Mae Winterhoff.

P.S. No. 2. Here are the four stooges who were usually on hand to tote the camera, tripod, lights and what have you, when Mr. Uhle was around. Buff is the chap at the handle and the three Bob's are: Van Osten, McKinnon, and Striebel.

P.S. No. 3. Here's that Doctor again Miss McKeehan ("Doc" to us), the faculty advisor for the THORNTONIAN and CHRONOSCOPE, is the one who irons out all the troubles. She's a swell person, one we will always remember. How could we forget!!

Oh Boy, What a Carnival!

Dear Johnnie,

I could write pages upon pages about how our Carnival came out this year. As you know, we were right in the swing of things with our theme, "Stage Door Canteen."

The first picture will give you a good idea of how the stage looked. Miss Temple and her art students painted the backdrop. Isn't it a dilly? That's the Girls' Chorus—tell you about their song later.

This year Mr. Schuelke was general director of the Carnival. No you don't remember him because he's a faculty freshman this year. But, Johnnie, you certainly missed something by leaving before he joined the T.F. gang. Mr. Schuelke is not only a very capable teacher and director, but he's also mighty clever.

We really should have put up "Standing Room Only" signs, Johnnie, 'cause the crowd was immense. The performers came on the stage from a victory caravan, and with "rookies" in uniform, lounging on the stage, the scene was convincing, at least to us stay-at-homes. A lot of service fellows said it was, too.

You can imagine how smoothly the show ran, when I tell you that we had the man with the mellow voice, Gordon Buffington, as master of ceremonies. Some of his jokes were worse than Mr. Lambka's.

I can almost hear that long, low whistle you'll emit when you see this picture of Double Sextet as they looked at the Carnival! Seated from left to right: Sarah Rider, Evelyn Ault, Erma Ault, Jeanette Mills, and Thais Chipps. Standing are: Ida Mae Maupin, Kathryn Trebellas, Marjorie Bauer, Janell Kickert, Shirley Labas, Mr. Schuelke, and Lila Mae Winterhoff.

Violette Panayotovich looked lovely and sounded the same as she sang, "God Bless America" to start things off. Then we turned from patriotism to comedy with an unusual tap dance by Betty Rentner and Rita Wright. No kidding, Johnnie, their dance was as unusual as it was clever. Under the ordinary skirt each was wearing was a pickaninny doll, sewed neatly to the underside of the skirt. When the skirt was raised, you saw a colored gal, and not Betty or Rita, shuffling along.

That "King of the Keyboard," Tom Voss, was on hand to play several numbers in his scintillating style. Tom also accompanied several of the other acts. I don't know what we would have done at rehearsals if it hadn't been for Tom. He was always on hand to play when we needed an accompanist for a dance routine or vocal number.

Betty Lorenz was back again, too. She did her stint for T.F. by singing and dancing to "Over There." Irving Berlin would have been proud of Betty's rendition of his great number. We'd like to hear what the mystics would have to say about her chances for stardom.

Lila Mae Winterhoff

Dorothy McClosky

Violette Panayotovich

Don't let Metro see this picture of Jeanette Mills and Tom Pochron at the left or they'll want to put them under contract, and we don't want to lose them just yet.

Buff looks far more dignified in this picture at the right than he actually did at the Carnival.

A hushed silence came over even the crows in the balcony as a young girl stepped to the front of the stage. Yes, it was Lila Mae Winterhoff. Many eyes were bright with tears, and prayers were whispered in many hearts as she sang, "Say a Prayer For the Boys Over There." Lila has the enviable power of bringing you fellows closer to us when she begins singing softly and sweetly.

Who wouldn't rave about Shirley Temple, Baby Snooks, and Betty Grable? The audience cheered as these stars ran onto the stage. (And who wouldn't cheer Fractional's football team!) Yes, it was the Petreemen acting up again. And what an act! They had us all but rolling in the aisles.

Wolf calls are strictly out of order, but we might let you have a nice long stare at the T. F. Jitterbug-Ballet group at the right. As for names, let's start at the doorway and come down and around—Cynthia Clark, Betty Rentner, Gail Hill, Edna Mazer, Lois Knott, Sarah Rider, Maureen Beach, Phyllis Ecklund, Millie Mitchell, and Margie Lutz.

Here are Rita Wright and Betty Rentner in the costumes they wore in the pickaninny dance. And standing to the right of them is Donna Lou Davis who really put her heart and soul into "You're A Grand Old Flag."

These are the "rookies" I was telling you about. In reality they are Meister-singers in borrowed uniforms.

Dorothy McClosky, one of our freshmen, played "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey!" on her accordian. And believe me, some of the fellows wanted to take her literally. We're looking forward to hearing more of Dorothy's music in future Carnivals.

We had a new find for the Carnival this year. It was Barbara Hindle. I don't know where she's been hiding that voice all these years. You can almost guess that she's been much in demand at all school entertainments since Carnival. As Barb sang, "Begin the Beguine," Jeanette (Yolanda) Mills, and Tom (Veloz) Pochron gave a beautiful exhibition of ballroom dancing. Jen and Tom are quite a team and all of us envied their easy grace as they glided through their routine.

Miss Shemaitis certainly arranged some intricate dance numbers. Did you ever see a Jitterbug-Ballet? Well, no one else had either until the night of November 19, 1943. The ballet started dreamily, but a few "hot licks" changed the situation. Our bal-lerinas became hep cats and jived merrily away.

This is Barbara Hindle. Uh-huh, we like her too. She couldn't be here the day the Carnival pictures were taken, but we finally managed to snap her.

Ida Mae Maupin, the soloist, would be another asset to any canteen.

The tap dance routine was as smooth as it was colorful, and a unique dance was presented by the girls who were the hostesses of the Stage Door Canteen.

Double Sextet, under the direction of Mr. Schuelke, was as good (if not better) than ever as they sang two old favorites, "Star Dust" and "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes." These melodies always stir up pleasant memories, and when sung by Double Sextet they make us reminisce even more.

Yvonne Breclaw, acrobat extraordinary, gave her all in an extremely difficult acrobatic feat. Everyone enjoyed her rhythmic contortions. However, we all held our breath for fear that she'd break her neck. She didn't though, so we're hoping to see her again at the other T.F. Carnivals.

As Girls' Chorus sang, "White Christmas," all bundled up in coats, mittens, and babuskas, you could practically see the snow falling. The audience got a big kick out of their getting tangled up, but that just added to the punch.

When you see this picture of Betty Lorenz, you'll probably wish she were "Over There" with you.

You can class Shirley Labas with the best. We do. Her tap dancing sets our toes atapping.

If you don't think tapping on roller skates is difficult, just try it some time.. Perhaps you could get Edna Mazer to teach you. She's definitely good!!

Shirley Labas (Twinkle Toes) did a tap routine to "Birth of the Blues," while Donna Lou Davis roused our "Red, White, and Blue" spirit with a song and dance routine to "You're A Grand Old Flag." Shirley is well-known at Fractional for her dancing, but Donna is just a Freshman. Here's hoping they'll both be back to entertain us at next year's Carnival.

Speaking of dancers, you'd have appreciated Edna Mazer. She did a tap dance on roller skates. Roller skate routines are rather a novelty at our Carnivals, and her dancing, along with her personality made Edna quite a hit. That gal certainly has audience-appeal.

The concessions were just as gay and popular as before. G.A.C. had their regular Fish Pond, and among other things, Girls' Club had a games and skills concession down in the bike room. This year Ye Olde Band Room was turned into Duffy's Tavern by Meistersingers. They always think of something original, don't they? The swim shom was spectacular, again, as usual.

The climax of Carnival, the crowning of the King and Queen, took place at eleven o'clock. Mary Elaine Jones and George Burkhardt reigned supreme—at until Mickey Isley and his crew packed away the last instrument.

I'm enclosing a picture of Mary Elaine and George taken just after they had been crowned. Doesn't Mary Elaine look sweet? And notice the surprised look on George's face! Perhaps, he doesn't believe he's really King of Carnival.

Introducing the chain gang! If you knew Maxie Grills, you'd realize just how ludicrous that policeman's uniform is. Jimmy Leonard is standing on the steps, and the others, reading from left to right, are: Allen Boerst, Joe Engerski, James Koselke, Clarence Ruark, Robert Gaylor, Russell Crane, Vincent Berwanger, and James Hocott.

Well, Johnnie, these are just some of the highlights. I hope you can visualize what the Carnival was like this year, and we all hope to see you at the Carnival of 1944.

Top o' the Mornin' Fella,

Sit yourself down on a convenient log or lean against a boulder for support. I'm about to let you in on the solution of the mystery that's been bothering the senior class since last November. Who are the "Pin Ups" and Who's Who of the outstanding seniors? Just a hand full of us have known, and have we had a hard time keeping quiet.

We had quite a task finding out just who did win what because the Pin Up vote (which was really a sort of popularity poll) and some of the votes for other things sort of doubled up on themselves sometimes. The committee solved the mix-up by calling folks whatever they got the most votes for. 'Frinstance, one fellow got a first in pin up and first in—well, never mind, he just got another first, but he had more votes for "Pin Up" than for the other one, so that's what he is labeled and the second place chap, who was only 2 votes behind, got the other label. Simple, isn't it? Anyhow, it's fair cause it includes more.

We ought to say that there were some folks who had so many votes scattered all over that they should be mentioned. The fellows are, Bob McKinnon, (Anyhow he had a big football picture, did you see it?) Jack Dunn, Benny Sidote, Bob VanOsten, Norman Schatz and Tom Voss (Did you see his special shot way back on page 4?) The girls are Pat Lauerman, Dot Mazer, Joan Gotham, and Janell Kickert.

Here are the results:

Pin Ups (In no special order)	Mike Nagy and Betty Lorenz Charlie Green, and Barbara Brough Henry Soczyk, and Rita Wright Harold Winterhoff and Annette Goyke Frank Gudgeon and Waynetta Dyer
Best Looking	George Schneider and Genevieve Gabrich
Best Dancers	Joe Stasiak and Jeanette Mills
Best Scouts	Danny Sestakauckas and Mary Alice Carroll
Best Dispositions	Don Maciejewski and Grace Jones
Most Reliable	Erwin Gleim and Kathleen Callahan
Most Popular	George Burkhart and Betty Rentner
Most Versatile	Gordon Buffington and Lila Mae Winterhoff
Most Friendly	Henry Zalewski and Eileen Nichter
Most Athletic	"Bones" Horvatich and Ruth Schultz
Brightest	Norman Smith and Eunice Harthun
Cutest	Phyllis Harle and Carl Falkenstrom
Drollest	Pete Pyrz and Betty McCloskey

To wind things up you'll find pictures of the Aults, Ted Ciastko and Leonard Gill whose didn't come out on top in any one thing but who had such a lot of votes for this, that and the other that they really outnumbered some of the first placers and just had to be included.

Last, but not least, we've included a snap of Eleanor Schab and her brother Edward, also a T.F. grad ('37, I think). Any gal with a five star service pin is a pin up for me, and I say five cheers for her the five Schab boys Ed, Gus, Joe, Roman, and Len—all T.Fers except Roman.

Here are three additions for your pin-up collection. By the way, have you started using the ceiling yet? The big group is the new 9 B's, and the two small groups are underclassmen who were absent when we snapped the individual pics.

Speech

Dear Albie,

I've just finished my math assignment and I have a few minutes left over in this library period, so I've decided to write this long overdue letter. I would have written sooner, Albie, but I lost your address, and had to go through a long, drawn-out process to get it again. Nevertheless, I finally got it and so here's the dope. (no wisecracks.)

There's really plenty happening around here, and it's hard to know just where to start. Still, as I look around the library, I can't help but talk first about speech and debate. The walls are plastered with banners and the trophy case isn't exactly empty. Right there at the back I can see the banner you won for first place in Original Oratory at Illinois Wesleyan, in 1942.

This year, as last, debate is nil for several reasons, the main one being transportation difficulties. Fortunately however, speech hasn't suffered the same fate. In fact, we've got a pretty strong squad.

Here are the N.F.L. officers:

1. G. Buffington, A. Hickman, Erma Ault.

Here is the "first string" squad:

1. P. Harle, S. Bertram, D. Mazer, Erma Ault.
2. L. Leek, N. Wahlgren, B. Rentner, K. Callahan.
3. C. Pike, L. Gill, G. Buffington.
4. Mr. Davis, A. Grady, L. McKittrich.

Of course, we don't have as many meets now as we used to, but we still have enough to create some interest and from the looks of the inexperienced speakers that answered Mr. Davis's call, the interest must be pretty great.

In our first meet of the year, at LaPorte, things went along smoothly and we emerged the victors over some nineteen other schools, among which were top rankers in Indiana. Nine of our thirteen competitors took one or more of the first places. Gordon Buffington, as usual, took first place in Humorous Reading, but added new laurels by winning first in Poetry as well. Leonard Gill distinguished himself with a first in Dramatic Declamation with Marjie Bauer second, and Shirley Bertram third. Erma Ault placed second in Poetry with her twin sister Evelyn taking a close third. In Radio Announcing, Bob McKinnon and Larry McKittrick tied for second place. Bob also took fourth in Oratorical Declamation. Anthony Grady received fifth place for the day in Extemp.

From there, we journeyed to Hammond High for the preliminary rounds in a triangular meet with Hammond and Clark. In this tourney, all of our inexperienced folks were given a chance at some contest work. The final rounds of this met at our school a few days later. We won! Individual credit went to Phyll Harle for first in poetry and Doris Larson and Erma Ault for second and fourth respectively in the same event. Kathleen Callahan came through with a handy third in Extemp, while Leonard Gill stole the show in Dramatics with first. In Oratorical Dec., Andy Stecyk, a newcomer to the speech team, eeked out a fourth place which added very nicely to our total. Lawrence McKittrick narrowly missed a top billing in Radio Announcing, but nevertheless, showed considerable ability by placing second. Irene Kohler, another newcomer, paralleled Larry's fete in Original Oratory while Eunice Harthun helped out with a fifth. Buff's eight points for first in Humorous increased our total as did Beryl Jones's second, Doris Larson's third and Betty Rentner's fourth places in the same event. All in all, it was a profitable meet.

T.F. took the initiative, and held the next tourney on the home floor, extending invitations to the "big-guns" in both Northern Illinois and Indiana. Transportation prohibited a full attendance from Illinois, however, the very highly esteemed Elgin team managed to come, along with Clark, Hammond High, Crown Point and LaPorte. The Fractional squad fought furiously and when the smoke of battle cleared away, they had done it again. This time, the nearest competitor, Elgin, was 53 points shy of threatening our first place title. Gill was consistent, and instrumental in piling up T.F.'s 190 points as we walked off with first in Dramatic Dec. Margie Bauer drew a second in the same event and came within five points of his mark. Bob McKinnon got on the beam and made a very impressive showing as he took first place honors in Oratorical Dec. Buff aided materially with another first in Humorous, as Phyll Harle and Thais Chipps made it a clean sweep in that event by gaining second and third honors respectively. Richard Leek, in his second attempt at speech work, did nicely with fourth place in Extemp.

This year our N.F.L. Chapter has taken in several new members, and last summer, had the honor of being selected the leading chapter in Northern Illinois. In connection with N.F.L., a Community Service Bureau has been formed. The bureau is just what the name implies. The speech class cooperated with National Forensic League in putting on programs for the various clubs and fraternal organizations in Cal. City, Hammond and Lansing. Mr. Davis instituted the idea and the civic organizations of these cities have taken it up with enthusiasm.

Well Albie, I'm not through, but the bell has rung, and I've got to quit. I'll write the results of the Sectional Tournament in another letter.

So long,

Skinny.

Honor Society

Dear Bud,

Did you used to be awake nights wondering whether you'd be selected for the National Honor Society? Believe me I wondered, and worried, and fretted. I was almost certain my grades were O.K. cause I've usually made the honor roll, and I was pretty sure my character would pass inspection—at least I haven't gotten into too many scrapes, but leadership and service! Well, I've always done my darndest to help out, but you can't be sure about what other folks think.

Buddy! The list just came out, and I'm on it. Believe me, it means the most of anything that ever happened to me. Didn't you feel that way? I thought I'd be all stuck up and proud, but now I've finally made it. I just feel very humble and grateful to be included in such a group. Just look at these names:

Erma Ault	Shirley Kross
Evelyn Ault	Dorothy Mazer
Donald Berwanger	Eileen Nichter
Gordon Buffington	Betty Jane Rentner
George Burkhart	Norman Schatz
Kathleen Callahan	Norman Smith
Mary Alice Carroll	Joseph Stasiak
Thais Chipps	Robert Striebel
Carl Falkenstrom	Madge VanHeest
Annette Goyke	Robert VanOsten
June Hanrahan	Arlene Wass
Phyllis Harle	Irving Weinberg
Eunice Harthun	Lila Mae Winterhoff
Martha Hayes	Elvah Workman
Lois Knott	Charlene Zelzer

Guess I don't need to say any more.

As ever,

Sis

Remember?

Hi Character,

Wish you were here today! Somehow it doesn't seem legal without you—Getting the "Chronoscope," I mean. It's our last one, you know. Did you ever think when we were freshman that you wouldn't be here to get your senior yearbook? Too bad you couldn't have finished your last semester before Uncle Sam took you. Ah well, such is life!

It doesn't seem like four years since we were scared little freshmen. Gosh, do you remember that first awful day? We couldn't find any of the classrooms and the whole darn school looked as big as a mountain. And those lockers! I couldn't open mine alone for two days. Then we went through a session of "firsts."—First football game, first dance, first Carnival—and millions of other events. Those football games were terrifically thrilling. Of course, we had to keep referring to our programs to identify the players, but it was fun anyway. Some of us were even in the Carnival that first year.

Golly, Pal, there are so many pleasant memories—humorous too, and a few tragic ones. Golly-gee, do you remember the heart palpitations Fred Slinkard caused? And Gloria Poppen, and Don Koehn, and "Machine Gun" Allen's algebra class? Then there was Joe Terre's trumpet solo at one of the concerts, and Stan Sonnenberg's 98 yard touchdown run in the Harvey game! Talk about eventful years! But suddenly, it was all over. Vacation days were fun, but we were sort of glad to come back to good old T.F. again—though we'd rather have died than admit it. Memories are all mixed up, and can't be definitely shoved into any special year, but will any of us ever forget any of the choruses of the grid men in the Carnivals? Or that spanking scene from the "Imaginary Invalid?"

Our sophomore year was an "off" year because the novelty of being high school students had worn off and we weren't quite upperclassmen yet. However, the thrill of new experiences combined with the unexpected Pearl Harbor attack kept us busy. An "Armed Forces" column was introduced in the "Thorntonian," we began buying war stamps and bonds, and doing war work in earnest. Uniforms became "what the well-dressed man will wear."

One of the things which really stands out in my memory is the Junior Class Play of that year. We were all willing to bet our last cent that Abby Abblett's and Hob Barker's performance in "June Mad" was unequaled by any professionals.

Franklyn Kingdon, now Pvt. Kingdon, became a member of the T.F. faculty. He produced a super-plus Carnival, but we liked him because he was always ready with a joke or wisecrack. Was anyone ever known to get the last word with him?

It was during our second year here in the "Institution," as we jokingly called Fractional, that our debate varsity won the State Championship. Our speech contestants ranked near the top at the state meet too. Edgar Thedens took first place in Extemp. He's practically a legend here now, Character. He was commentator at one of the spring concerts and everyone liked his "Me-thinks" column in the paper.

It seemed only yesterday that we first entered the halls of T.F., but strange as it seemed, we were now Juniors. We all looked forward to the Prom and to making Junior Council. Joe Stasiak was our class president, radio club was in full swing, several members of our class were on the varsity football and basketball teams, and most of the cheerleaders were juniors.

Senior day last year seemed particularly outstanding. Perhaps, because we had quite a few friends in the senior class. Do you remember Barbara Gilbreath's Senior song? Wasn't it inspiring? Then too, the Junior-Senior play made a hit with everyone. Angie Vitale stole the show with her slightly Brooklynish accent in portraying the society matron. Graduation night made us realize that soon we'd be receiving our diplomas too.

And this year!! It's been fun watching the frosh regard us with awe. We all have a sort of odd, possessive feeling, as though T.F. was strictly the property of the senior class. "Buff" sounded almost professional as master of ceremonies in the Carnival. And what girl will ever forget Lila Mae who was our own special Girls' Club President.

After being thrilled by Danny, Mike, and Company during the grid season, we continued to be amazed by "Bones," Burkhardt, and Gullota with their crew during the basketball season. The suspense of wondering who was what in the senior mirror, and who made National Honor Society, was terrific. And don't think we didn't waste precious hours trying to decide who the "pin-up" people were! Such mysteries!

We've had fun galore here at T.F. and have much to remember. Our prom, our Chronoscope, our Thorntonian, our Carnival—they all belonged to us because we are seniors. Of course, the underclassmen might give us an argument about that, but they certainly couldn't claim Senior Day or Commencement. These were definitely "Seniors only." But we gladly shared them with the rest of the school and with our folks. We were proud of our class to "hoard" our achievements.

But, Character, it will soon be all over. Soon we'll have just memories. Most of them will be pleasant. We'll disregard the unpleasant ones.

Well, Soldier, guess it's time to say, "S'long," again! Take care of yourself, and think of us once in a while. Most of our senior boys are in uniform now, and we here at home are terrifically proud of all of you. We wish you were here with us, but know that that would be wrong, so, we just wait and hope for the day when you can again roam the halls of T.F., not as seniors, of course, but as successful alumni.

Happy landing,
The Gang

Better Late Than Never

Here are some pictures we couldn't include in their regular sections. At the left is Bob Kronke who finished up his senior year while learning how to help Uncle Sam run the Navy. In the middle is Catherine Geisen who, after three years in T.F. was temporarily enrolled at Hammond High when the senior photographs were taken, and on the right is Donald Berwanger who recovered from infantile paralysis in time to return for the second semester.

Here's the genial and capable Mr. Joseph Pressig who is one of the members of our School Board. He gets a separate picture because he couldn't get in with the group.

Above is Wanda Urbanski who also left us, but moved back for the second semester, and at the right is Gordon Hagdohl, another senior who earned his credits while in naval training.

"You'll Like The Way We Treat You"

V-MAIL LETTER TO ANY AMERICAN BOY

Mariam Katanich

Smalltown, U. S. A.
Anyplace, Wartime

Dear Son,
Received your letter here today,
And was very glad to hear you say,
You're feeling fine and everything's "swell".
Son, you keep right on ringing that liberty bell.

The screendoors' just slammed, Sis ran in,
She's grabbed her skates and
she's out again.
Your brother's singin' at the top of his lungs
One of those crazy jitterbug songs.

Mom's just come in from her
war meetin' chore,
(She goes every Monday with the lady next door.)
Your old Pop keeps workin'
day by day,
Buying more bonds with my war defense pay.

The old town's the same, same neighbors around,
Think they're all waitin' to start breakin' ground
So they can start plantin'
seeds by the scores—
Those Victory Gardens are a sure boon to the stores!

Your friends ask about you,
and especially "one",
She's really fond of you, believe me son!
Well, that's all the news from here, and son,
Don't forget to drop,
Another letter to your,
Loving Pop
P. S. We miss you.

Cafeteria, my Cafeteria,
Of Thee I sing,
You are a mysteria,
Of which hash is king.

It's the home of the book and
the mag,
Dictionaries, encycs, and the daily rag.
We can get all the knowledge
we can possibly carry
From the home of the books—
the T.F. Library.

It looks good, smells bad,
It's a pinch of this, of that a
dab,
It stifles alike both girl and
lad,
Is this a riddle?—Nope, just the Lab.

It's the center of news,
Of all that brews,
It's cold as a tomb
The "Thorntonian" Staff Room.

The battle-ground of friendly
strife,
Where spirit is bright and
worry nil,
Where the thrill of the game
is the real life,
The spacious Gym is our
"Sportsville."

Blare and blast—they call it music.

At practice they give us an awful toothsic,

But should a public appearance loom,

All discordant noises are gone
from Band Room.

They sketch and they paint,
Every laddie and lass,
They do what I cain't,
These in ye olde Art Class.

Fishie, Fishie, in the brook,
But not the kind that you can cook.

They're T.F. mermaids (now you can drool)

And T.F. mer-men in the Swimming Pool.

Hammer and pound, it's noise galore.

Scratch and scrape, chip and chop,

Forget about the sign on the door!

By these sounds you shall know Wood Shop.

The building itself is stately brick red,

The best place around, we tell the rest.

But at times we enter it with hearts of lead.

For we know full well we're to have a test.

A medley of horn and hammer,
mer,

Bad motors sputter and pop,
But work is done without a stammer,

And cars are fixed in Auto
Shop.

The office is a buzzing hive
Upon work the staff does surely thrive,

When at eve the office door
closes,

The machinery stops—the building dozes.

These classes stitched and sewed

They made each Carnival
costume,

They sought every style,
every mode,

Originality was supreme in the Sewing Room.

A mammoth cave of mystery
Should make its mark in history,

The only place in school
that's warm,

Our Boiler Room runs true to form,

The harbor of everything from
"pin-ups" to mice,

Cookie crumbs, notes, and
even brass knockers,

Snapshots, books—you can peek—for a price,

There isn't much you won't find in T.F. lockers.
